Contract Let to Triple Mansfield's Water Supply

LAUSCHE ASKS NEW LAW TO HALT GAMBLING

Governor Wants Power to Remove Sheriffs, Hits Back at Herbert.

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced today he would ask the next legislature to enact a law giving the governor power to remove sheriffs for failure to enforce anti-gambling and liquor laws.

The governor's statement was made in answer to charges by Thomas J. Herbert, Republican gubernatorial nominee, last night that he had been dilatory in enforcing the liquor and anti-gambling laws. Lausche, a Democrat, is seeking reelection.

"If Ohio had such a law now, there are three sheriffs of different political affiliation whom I would remove," the executive said. He declined to name the sheriffs he had in mind.

The governor also said he would not ask the attorney general to conduct special grand jury investigations in Mahoning or any other county at this time, indicating that he considered they would be of little service in cleaning up any bad situations.

He said that if such investigations were contemplated, they should be called in at least a half dozen communities. He likewise declined to name the counties.

Replies to Charge.

The governor said he had talked today with information services in Mahoning county concerning Herbert's charge that Mahoning county had the widest open gambling of any in the state.

The governor said "there are a number of counties in the state where I have been prodding public officials to clean up conditions."

"In the fanatical desire to be elected, my opponent is making reckless statements about my attitude on law enforcement," Gov. Lausche said.

He asserted that his own activity against slot machine operations and liquor law violations "has awakened the people of Ohio to the fact that something can be done toward cleaning up conditions."

Lausche promised that when his campaign really starts he would give a "full narration concerning law enforcement as it was in the past and is now."

Concerning Herbert's charges that slot machine operators at Warren had not yet been prosecuted, Lausche said that "if the representative of the attorney general had been alert, he would have obtained proof that I had to write for and spend my time getting."

He referred to information concerning slot machines obtained from the U. S. internal revenue department. Liquor hearings have been scheduled for Oct. 15 and 17.

Herbert last night accused Lausche of "publicly condemning and privately wooing the gambling interests of this state" and rapped the state administration's enforcement of anti-gambling laws in Franklin, Mahoning and Trumbull counties specifically.

Community Fund Quiz

QUESTION — How is the total goal of the Community Fund determined?

ANSWER —Each agency has a budget committee made up of our own local members. These committees decide how much it will cost to operate their own agencies for the ensuing year. They estimate how much money will be raised from their own membership and how much balance will be left at the end of the current year. The deficit is the amount asked of the Community Fund. All of these estimated deficits are given to the over-all budget committee, which is made up of representatives of various cross sections of the city. They weigh the requests and consider the needs as well as the activities of the agencies, and set the total goal for the campaign. This year it is $94,000.

$424,477 Bid of Au Accepted

Mansfield today bought itself a $424,500 Clear Fork dam for delivery in 285 days.

In a move designed to triple the city's water supply—currently near the danger point—the board of control awarded the dam building contract to Roger J. Au on his low bid of $424,477.

The dam, a key part of the million dollar Clear Fork reservoir project, is scheduled to be completed in August, 1947.

About a year after that the reservoir is expected to be ready to boost the city's water supply by 15 to 20 million gallons a day.

At 'Danger Point.'

This increased supply will assure the city of water sufficient to support an active city of more than 60,000 and provide for practically unlimited industrial expansion.

The present water works has a capacity of about 6,000,000 gallons a day, which places the city, currently estimated to have a population of 44,000 on the danger line.

Service-Safety Director William W. Enlow said the dam building contract will be "executed" Friday and that Au, under terms of the contract, would be required to begin construction 15 days later. The contract further requires that the dam be completed 270 days from the execution date.

Au said he was prepared to start construction within the 15-day limit.

Wells Now Used.

Currently the city pumps between five and six million gallons of water a day from a series of wells. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has described the city as being "on thin ice" as regards its current water supply.

Au's bid was $40,000 lower than that of John Hill but it topped the city's estimate, prepared by the Jennings-Lawrence company, project engineers, by some $124,000.

Two Illinois firms submitted bids ranging from $494,000 to $556,000 while Hill's bid was around $464,000.

PARLEYS FAIL TO END STRIKES

Government Seeking Partial Settlement of Ship Tieup.

(By United Press)

The government appealed to striking CIO maritime leaders today to clear the way for a partial settlement that would restore peace on the east and gulf coasts but leave unsolved the west coast phase of the nationwide shipping tie-up.

Other U. S. labor officials, meanwhile, scheduled negotiations aimed at ending work stoppages in the film, power, transit, newspaper and other industries.

Prospects for settling transportation strikes in Chicago and Columbus, O., waned as company and union representatives reached an apparent impasse on the important wage issue. And striking Tacoma, Wash., bus drivers began picketing belt line buses, completely cutting off public transportation facilities in that city.

A non-striker was clubbed yesterday when he tried to pass through a picket line around Columbia studio, one of nine Hollywood film companies affected by a jurisdictional strike. The strike began two weeks ago in a dispute over which union members should build movie setups.

In other major labor developments, negotiations continued in efforts to resume publication of the strike-bound Los Angeles Herald-Express, and the Pittsburgh power strike entered its third week with little progress toward a settlement.

'TURTLE' IN SHOW

OAKLAND, Cal. —(INS)— Preparations were completed today for Oakland's air show opening Saturday and featuring the appearance of the navy long-distance champion bomber, "Truculent Turtle". A total of 200 military and civilian planes will participate in the show.

Ordination of Talbot to Diaconate to Open Grace Episcopal Centenary

Grace Episcopal church completes Saturday its first 100 years of Christian activity.

A week later it will open centenary services and ceremonies of observance with the ordination to the diaconate of David Merriman Talbot, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Talbot, former Mansfield residents, now of Santa Monica, Calif.

On Sunday, Oct. 20, Right Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, D. D., bishop of Ohio, will administer the right of confirmation to the class of young people.

The three-day observance will close Monday, Oct. 21, when the entire parish will join in a dinner. At that time, the congregation of 510 members will review the history of the church from the day of its founding, Oct. 12, 1846, and make plans for future Christian service to Mansfield.

A high-light of the parish dinner will be the burning of the church debt papers, marking the first time in the 100-year history the church has been debt free.

As late as January 1, this year, the church debt was $5,170. Now that debt is paid and the church has established a memorial fund of $7,500.

The church history, prepared and written by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cave, Blymyer avenue, also will show that the church has met its share of the chaplain fund and has pledged a total of $1,200 for reconstruction and advance. Copies of the history will be distributed to church members.

The vigorous effort to free the church financial obligations dates from the start of the pastorate of Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard on Sept. 1, 1944.

Since then, in addition to paying off its entire debt and accumulating the memorial fund, the membership has been increased from 387 to its present total of 510.

Grace Episcopal thus starts its second 100 years in better condition, both as to finances and membership, than at any time in its history.

RADIO HEARING OPENS QUIETLY

Fireworks That Marked Previous Session Absent.

Hearing of the first of three applications for licenses to operate FM (frequency modulation) radio stations in Mansfield started today at the American Legion home, without the "fireworks" that developed during a similar hearing last summer.

The hearing recessed at noon until 1 p. m.

Examiner Jack Blume of the Federal Communications commission in Washington, D. C., is hearing the three requests for licenses. Called this morning was the case of the Unity corporation of Toledo, seeking to open an FM station here.

Scheduled for later today and tomorrow were hearings on applications of Richland, Inc., which operates Station WMAN, and the Mansfield Journal company, publishers of the News-Journal. Reports on the FCC decisions are not expected for several weeks.

ROADS MINED

British Launch Search For Palestine Explosives.

JERUSALEM —(INS)— Palestine police and British troops today cordoned off the area of Givath Shaul, Jewish quarter near the Jaffa road just outside the city of Jerusalem, and opened a search for illegal mines.

Authorities imposed a strict curfew in four Jewish districts of Palestine.

The action was undertaken after discovery by authorities that rural roads throughout the country had been mined by Jewish extremists.

SCOOTER HITS TRUCK

Seething Controversy Over Meat Rocks U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The seething controversy over decontrol of meat erupted across the nation today, keyed to bitter political charges and counter charges.

Only one thing is certain. There is little meat in pan, kettle or oven. And, in some sectors at least, it is getting scarcer.

UNRRA Director General Fiorello H. LaGuardia said it is not going overseas in UNRRA cartons.

Asked by newsmen in Washington whether his organization is shipping meat abroad, LaGuardia replied, "only some canned horsemeat."

Most authorities agree there is plenty of meat, grazing on the ranges. Thus Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio charged "The available supply of meat has been artificially kept from the people."

"Meat shelves of Ohio are bare," Lausche telegraphed Washington, urging a federal investigation of the meat situation in Ohio.

DEM PAPER BLAMES GOP FOR SHORTAGE

As political overtones of the scarcity swelled hourly, these were the major developments:

1. "The Democrat," official party publication, spoke of a possible full-dress investigation to determine whether "any political or criminal collusion has taken place." The newspaper's headline proclaimed: "Meat Scandal on Republican Doorstep."

To this, Rep. Halleck (R., Ind.), chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee, retorted: "Apparently the Democrat does not recall its party has been in control of congress."

$1,363 SAFETY FACTOR SET UP

Community Fund Asks Teams to Top Goals.

To help assure success of the Mansfield Community Fund's $94,067 campaign, a safety factor of $1,363 has been set up, W. E. Slabaugh, jr., general campaign chairman, said today.

Besides the $63,000 quota for the industrial division, representing almost two-thirds of the amount sought in the drive, the 10 up-town divisions have been given a combined total of $32,430 to meet.

The annual campaign will start with the kick-off breakfast Monday at 8:30 a. m. at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The drive will end Oct. 23.

Breakdown of the up-town total by divisions follows:

Auto, $1,600, construction, $3,010; education, $1,790; financial, $4,040; food, $3850; professions, $3,480; public employes, $1,320; public services, $3,855; retail, $4,040; and women's, $5,950.

COUNTY READY NOW TO BUILD TB HOSPITAL

Commissioners Say They Seek CPA Approval, Then Ask For Bids on Project.

Richland county's plans for a new $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium apparently had cleared another hurdle today with the state health department promising prompt approval of the building plans and site.

County Commissioners C. L. Shoup and John W. Selby said they were told in Columbus yesterday that approval would be given immediately.

Commissioners were ready today to ask the Civilian Production administration in Cleveland for permission to build the institution.

Decision to ask permission to build was reached this morning at a meeting with Herbert S. Jones, architect on the project.

File Request

Commissioners were told yesterday in Columbus that a letter would have to accompany their request for approval of the plans, so the two commissioners prepared it there and turned it over to State Health Director Roger E. Heering.

The county commissioners said they decided to get CPA approval and ask for bids on the project, in a move to get the building started if possible with the money they have from the $300,000 bond issue passed last fall.

Building authorities have told them, however, that the project is likely to cost considerably more than $300,000, and commissioners have indicated they may seek federal aid to supplement county funds.

GARSSON CASE GOES TO JURY

Demand Grows For May to Testify Before Election.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government completed arrangements today to lay the "Garsson case" before federal grand jurors as a demand arose that Rep. May (D-Ky) answer senate investigators' questions about the wartime munitions combine prior to the November election.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), a member of the senate war investigating committee which spent six weeks delving into the once sprawling arms venture, told reporters that "in justice to May" the committee should arrange an early appearance for the Kentucky lawmaker.

There was no reference to May in Attorney General Tom Clark's terse announcement last night that the Garsson case would be presented to a grand jury, beginning tomorrow.

Within the last 10 days the Garsson case and May's connection with it has been brought into the West Virginia campaign where Chairman Harley Kilgore of the investigating committee is running for re-election to the senate.

Watch Sky Fireworks Tonight!

NEW YORK —(AP)— One of the most spectacular celestial displays in history starts about 10 o'clock (EST) tonight with the comet Giacobini-Zinner, shedding millions of meteors.

The head of the comet zipped past earth nine days ago but was 24,000,000 miles away and not many people noticed.

Tonight the fiery tail of meteors will be 131,000 miles away, about half the distance to the moon. It was to be visible to the naked eye over the eastern half of the United States and Canada—but the weather bureau said rain and clouds may hide the display.

DYING WOMAN FOUND UNDER AUTO IN MIAMI

Detectives Fear Mansfielder May Have Been Beaten Fatally.

Detectives in Miami, Fla., sought today to learn whether Miss Betty Cramer, 27, of 667 Highland avenue, was killed by an automobile or beaten to death.

Miss Cramer was found under a parked automobile Oct. 3 and died yesterday of a fractured skull without regaining consciousness, the Associated Press reported from Miami.

A resident of Mansfield all her life, she was well known to Mansfield police. At the time of her death, she was on probation from common pleas court, where she appeared Sept. 17, 1945 to answer charges of pocket picking. She had been placed on probation for five years.

Before leaving for Florida, she appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch to obtain permission to leave the vicinity for six months.

According to relatives, she left Mansfield six weeks ago for Florida. The AP quoted Miami detectives as saying she had been in Miami for about two weeks.

A former employe of Westinghouse, she is survived by her parents, Donald A. and Garnetta Cramer; a brother, Robert J. Cramer, and her grandmothers, Mrs. Frank Williams, with whom she had made her home, and Mrs. A. D. McMillen, all of Mansfield.

The body will arrive in Mansfield Thursday afternoon, when it will be taken to the Wappner funeral home. Funeral arrangements are not complete.

Police Hunt Thieves Who Hunt Hunters

Police today were hunting for thieves responsible for a series of hunting dog thefts in the vicinity.

Theft of five more Beagle hounds caused police to wonder whether thieves have declared "open season" on such dogs in preparation for next year's hunt.

Frank Adams, 211 Helen avenue, said that five of seven Beagle pups were stolen from a rear-yard pen sometime yesterday. Four were females; one was a male and all were brown, black and white.

John Valerio, 57 East Sixth street, reported theft of a $25 Beagle yesterday—plus a Pekingese, valued at $50.

SURVEY BEGINS

Commissioners Authorize Ritters Run Project.

Richland county commissioners today authorized the County Engineer to proceed with a survey for proposed improvement of Ritter's Run Ditch in Mansfield.

The authorization came during a meeting in the commissioners' office which was attended by interested parties in addition to Engineer Walter E. Rusk.

ANGRY CROWD OF 30,000 FIGHTS POLICE

First Casualty Estimates Range From 3 to 15 Dead, 100 Wounded.

(Compiled from Wire Dispatches)

ROME — Italy's worst riot since liberation broke out today at Viminale palace, seat of the government. Initial reports varied in death toll estimates, ranging from three to 15, with more than 100 wounded.

Thirty thousand demonstrators, most of them workmen slated for discharge from the public works department Saturday, battled gendarmes savagely.

The crowd was in an ugly mood when it arrived at the palace for the third straight day, and its temper grew steadily uglier.

Several in the crowd were heard to shout as the police moved upon them:

"This is no better than fascism."

* * *

Break Into Building.

Before the police were reinforced, scores of demonstrators had pushed past the regular guards into the government building, where they broke furniture and shattered windows.

Some got as far as the office of Premier Alcide de Gasperi, who also is minister of the interior, before they were ejected.

The demonstration was staged in protest against decision of the Italian government to release 56,000 public workers from their jobs as an economy measure.

It was timed to coincide with the arrival from Palermo of the premier.

* * *

Casualties High.

Unofficial newspaper reports placed the casualties much higher than the government's figures.

Carabinieri opened fire on the mob with their carbines, causing most of the casualties. Demonstrators replied with barrages of rocks and a few hand grenades. The rioters attacked police with spikes and heavy clubs.

Mobile police reserves attempting to reach the scene were hurled from their jeeps by demonstrators who stripped them of their weapons.

Heavy police reinforcements in armored cars finally subdued the riot.

WARNINGS UP

Storm Hammers Way Through Middle Atlantic States.

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(U.P.)—Winds of near gale velocity battered the middle Atlantic coast today as the tail end of a tropical hurricane crept northward, causing heavy rain throughout the west and central portions of North Carolina.

Storm warnings were hoisted from south of Block Island, R. I., to Cape Hatteras, N. C., and the weather bureau warned that winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour velocity would strike the middle Atlantic coastal section from Block Island to Norfolk, Va.

Heavy winds, generally less than 30 miles an hour, would hammer the middle Atlantic states during the day, the weather bureau said.

Refugees Attack American MP's

FRANKFURT—(INS)—The U. S. army's European headquarters revealed today that one thousand Jewish refugees in a displaced persons camp attacked seven MP's who were attempting to break up a stolen car ring.

A spokesman said the American MP's were attacked by the angry throng at the camp near Frankfurt while attempting to impound seven stolen vehicles which were falsely registered. No MP's were injured seriously in the melee at the Zeilsheim camp.

MOTHER HIDES SON

CAMBRIDGE —(U.P.)— William Berg, 24, today was returned to Guernsey county jail here after he allegedly "jumped" $600 bond posted by his mother when he was indicted on a morals charge. Sheriff Wilmer O. Oliver said a search had been carried on for several months in homes near the Berg residence. He was found in hiding in his mother's home, Oliver said.

Vetsville Asks Contractors to Loan Carpenters to Finish Homes for Vets

An appeal to contractors to loan "at least one carpenter" to work on the nearly-completed Vetsville units at Charles Mill lake was sounded today by James L. Zimmerman, project official. Admitting that the appeal was unusual, Zimmerman said, however, that "it's our last resort in an effort to get 69 voterans and their families into homes before winter." Completion of Vetsville is stymied by a severe labor shortage.

Said Zimmerman: "If each of the private contractors in the area could loan us one carpenter it would speed the completion of Vetsville and still not seriously hinder the progress of their projects."

Carpenters willing to help at Vetsville were asked to contact Project Manager W. K. Mackey at Charles Mill lake.

Zimmerman said that two more carpenters have "signed on" for work on the project, boosting the total to 19. Four more are expected to be added early next week.

"But we can still use 25 more. There's plenty of material available at the site to keep them busy," Zimmerman said.

Only material shortage is in galvanized chimney piping. Zimmerman said, however, that the Federal Public Housing administration has applied for a priority on that item.

Six of the 75 temporary apartments have been occupied. A number of the units need only kitchen cabinets and shelves and the chimney piping installed before they can be occupied. Others also require installation of partitions, window frames and windows.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—When the Wagner act was passed in 1936, most of the thirteen million GI's of World War II were too young to realize that they had been trapped into serfdom under the masters of unionism. Thus, most of them have never known freedom and do not know what they lost during their political or civic infancy. They were 17 or 18 years old at the highest when Wagner's law went whooping through under the fraudulent pretense that its only purpose was to safeguard interstate commerce against the impediment of labor disputes. Millions of them were children of 12 or 13 years. Babies.

Few of us who were adults at the time perceived that this was a revolutionary slick trick by which the union masters, great, pompous tyrants, some with truly baronial privileges, and yachts, racing stables and winter palaces, were granted the power to fix the wages of the people. The stupidly mistaken belief of the mature citizens of the time was that here was a bill whose only intention was the beautiful purpose of protecting the right of workers to join unions and equalize the inequality between an enormous, soulless corporation and the individual workman hungry and shivering at the employment gate. We who were old enough to know better were guilty of a disastrous error of careless and emotional thinking. Intelligent, sober study of the Wagner bill would have shown us that this was not Wagner's intention or Roosevelt's either, and that congress had no power to regulate relations between the citizen and his employer within a state.

* * *

WAGNER, ROOSEVELT and their legal counsel knew congress lacked the power to do this · That is why they used the pretext of expediting and protecting interstate commerce. They tricked us.

Congress does possess the specific right to regulate commerce, so they hitched their Fascist scheme to the commerce clause of the Constitution.

Here is the language of the pretext, slightly abbreviated: "It is the policy of the United States to eliminate the causes of certain substantial obstructions to the free flow of commerce."

As a means of doing this, however, they would protect "the exercise by the workers of freedom of self-organization and designation of agents of their own choosing" for collective bargaining.

If those people believed that congress really had the constitutional power to "encourage the practice of collective bargaining," another phrase in the preamble, why didn't they state that to be the "policy of the United States?" The reason was that Wagner, Roosevelt, the Department of Justice and the union lawyers had in mind the plan, soon to become a reality, through which the workers were not merely "encouraged" to join unions, but driven and hounded into unions by hundreds of thousands through physical, economic and social terror; were frankly and arrogantly denied freedom to choose their own bargaining agents and, like the Serfs of old Europe, were delivered from place to place in faceless masses; disciplined, ordered and subdued, at wages agreed upon by their union masters.

* * *

TO SAY THAT THEY were "encouraged" to join unions is like saying that a condemned man was "encouraged" to be seated in the electric chair.

When I speak of faceless masses delivered from place to place by their union masters I am not tossing you an overripe figure of speech. I saw it done one day in Detroit when an industrial official remarked that he had loaned a thousand men—he had loaned a thousand American citizens as though they were draft horses—to another big manufacturer engaged in war work, to meet an emergency. They were his faceless people allotted him by the union and the government in Washington. They had no more to say about their pay or conditions of work than so many head of work stock. All that was arranged between the union masters and the employers, under government supervision.

It is not uncommon to hear one general in a war say that he loaned or borrowed one or several divisions of soldiers to meet an emergency. But these were civilian workers, who are supposed to be free men.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON—(UP)—I have a little dissertation today on circles, walking in. Funny, perhaps, to everybody except a few million hungry Chinese. About all we've fed them so far is red tape.

Early last spring Gen. George C. Marshall dropped over to China to see what we could do to help the inhabitants. He reported that food for relief was coming in, but it wasn't reaching the people because the railroads were a shambles.

He said what China needed was 500,000 tons of steel rails to haul the food to the interior. That sounded reasonable. It is, I am sorry to report, about the only thing that does sound reasonable in this whole circular dispatch.

So the state department, the United Nationals Relief organization, the treasury department and the War Assets administration put their heads together to find those rails for the general.

* * *

The War Assets people dredged up 19,379 tons of surplus army rails to carry the rice to the Chinese. This took time. By the middle of the summer there was so much food spoiling on the docks of Shanghai that the relief agency slapped an embargo on all shipments to China. The first shiploads of rails were turned back.

"But I still don't understand why," insisted Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, of Missouri, who was trying to straighten out the circles.

"Well, sir," replied Moses Harvey of the Civilian Production administration, "the material was backing up at the ports."

"But why?" demanded Rep. Slaughter.

"Largely because of a lack of rails," Harvey testified.

"So you couldn't ship in any more rails?" Rep. Slaughter asked. "You mean the goods couldn't move because of no rails so they put an embargo on rails?"

* * *

HARVEY SAID that was what he meant. Rep. Slaughter said it sounded like circles to him. A succession of witnesses then brought out the fact that the embargo still stands. The food still is on the docks. General Marshall still hasn't got his rails, the Chinese still are hungry, and apparently are destined to remain that way. The order to ship them the rails expired nine days ago. R. A. Stephens, the elderly chief of the government's surplus steel, said he had no further responsibility to get food to the stomachs of China

That's part of the story. The other part you've already heard: about how UNRRA started a couple boatloads of rails back from China to Yugoslavia. You remember how that happened about the time the Yugoslavs were shooting down our airplanes.

They got 1,700 tons of the rails that the Chinese couldn't use because they needed them so badly. Somebody — and I still haven't heard who—stopped another victory ship loaded with 2,060 tons for Yugoslavia. That was last summer.

The ship's still in port here, still loaded with the Chinese rails, and still destined—if it ever sails at all—for Yugoslavia. I don't know what General Marshall thinks about this. Probably just as well. This newspaper isn't made of asbestos.

CHIANG MAKES NATIONWIDE PEACE APPEAL

Generalissimo Talks on Eve of Chinese Republic's 35th Anniversary.

NANKING — (INS) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek made a nationwide radio appeal today for national unity in China and called for the Chinese Communists to submit to peaceful settlement of their differences with the Nationalists.

Chiang's appeal was made on the eve of China's observance tomorrow of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese republic by Sun Yat Sen.

Communist General Chou En-lai had previously turned down the latest proposal for a ten-day truce in China's civil war. Chou contended the truce should be without a time limit.

In his address to the Chinese, Chiang refused to accept the breakdown in American mediation efforts as final and declared:

"I take this occasion to assert with all the force of emphasis that in order to break the deadlock in the current situation, we must still resort to peaseful consultation in seeking a solution of some of the basic problems.

". . . In dealing with the Chinese Communists, the government will under no circumstances whatsoever abandon its expectancy of frank, sincere negotiations."

Before his address a Nationalist spokesman declared that the Koumintang (Nationalists) intend to relinquish its "political tutelage" on Nov. 12 by convoking the national asembly, regardless of whether the Communists attend.

WEE 'FIREMEN' GET RED HATS

1,000 Given Pupils By Fire Prevention Committee.

Several hundred "little firemen" were running around public school grounds in the city today, carrying out the most colorful "stunt" of the current Fire Prevention Week campaign.

Yesterday, more than 1,000 bright red firemen's hats were distributed to the city's 10 elementary schools. By memorizing a fire prevention pledge, the children won the hats.

Meanwhile, an exhibit of home fire hazards, set up by fire Chief L. J. Steele in the Herring Motor Car company showrooms, corner South Walnut and West Second streets, was reported drawing school children and adults alike.

Most of the city's fire stations reported that school children were attending the "open houses" held at the stations.

The campaign, to make Mansfielders aware of fire hazards, will end Saturday with a colorful parade through the downtown district. The parade will begin at 7 p. m. in front of the American Legion home, will circle Central Park, to North Diamond street, down Daimond to East Fourth, west on Fourth to Main and south on Main to the Park where the parade will disband for the awarding of prizes and a demonstration of the hook and ladder by the firemen.

Already entered in the parade are four industrial floats. Prize for the best float entered will be $25 with $15 and $10 given as respective second and third awards.

Thanksgiving Festival Opens

Services of observance of the Feast of Sukon or Feast of the Tabernacle, the Jewish thanksgiving festival, open tonight at the B'Nai Jacob congregation, 50 Sturges avenue.

Services will be held at 7:30 tonight and at 7:30 each morning and evening tomorrow and Friday.

Rabbi David Rub explained that the "original meaning has been merged into a festival of thanksgiving for Torah, the tabernacles, or booths, in which all Jews are bidden to dwell during the holiday to symbolize the equality before God since for the duration of the holiday rich and poor alike live in them. They are intended to recall the frail structure inhabited by Jews when they wander in the wilderness."

YW Nous Servons Elects Officers

Amelia Zaros was elected president of the YWCA Nous Servons club last night. Other officers chosen were Margaret Scholler, vice president; Catherine Morway, secretary; Wanda Blair, treasurer; Ruth Seaburn and Waunetah Jarman, inter-club council representatives.

Installation service will be held on October 22 with Josephine Taddeo as chairman. Advisor for the club is Mrs. Howard A. Marriot.

CLOSE FOR HOLIDAY

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today that "following the usual custom" the city building will be closed all day Saturday, Columbus day. The building is normally closed during the afternoon on Saturdays.

Dental Clinic Offered 396 Pupils Free Service In '46

Last year 396 city school children were given free dental work plus education toward preserving their teeth through the Mansfield Dental Clinic association, a Red Feather agency of the Community Fund.

Miss Dorothy L. Landers, president of the clinic, is among those Mansfield volunteer workers and dentists who recognize the worth of such a program.

"Periodically we check schools in the poorer districts of the city," Miss Landers began. "Children needing dental attention are given slips to take home to their parents, notifying them of the work that should be done.

"If, after an investigation, we find the parents unable to pay for the work, the children are treated at the clinic free of charge. Occasionally, the parents pay $1 or $2 toward the treatment which removes them from the indigent list."

The dental clinic, set up on the third floor of the city building, is open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week, during which days local dentists alternate in the treatments. Children treated at the clinic are picked up by taxis at their respective schools, transported to the clinic and returned to the schools by taxis.

"We had 28 dentists alternating at the clinic last year," Miss Landers said, "and we expect to have more this year who have returned from service.

"In the next year or so we hope to start dental education in the schools so that all children will benefit by an enlarged program.

"By treating the children in the first eight grades we feel that we can prevent and arrest dental troubles for them in later life," Miss Landers concluded.

Set up in 1940, the dental clinic was organized by 32 women's organizations in the city who supplied volunteer workers for the program.

C. of C. Plans 'Over the Top' Victory Dinner

Chamber of Commerce workers will celebrate going "over the top" in their just completed membership drive, with a get-together dinner tomorrow night at 6:30 in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

After a bang-up campaign in which the club spurted over the goal of 1,100 membership in the form of a small reward and relaxation for the untiring job performed by the workers, John Routzon, secretary manager of the chamber, said.

No formal program is planned, but prizes, donated by local concerns, will be awarded to the victors in the campaign contest.

OSR ESCAPER GOES ON TRIAL

McFarland Tomorrow to Face Charge Second Time.

Edward N. McFarland, 25, of Columbus, will go on trial in Richland county common pleas court tomorrow in a second offense charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

The 25-year-old Columbus resident is charged with stealing a car belonging to William A. Light, of 263 Harker street, on July 20 shortly after he escaped from the Mansfield reformatory.

The escaper was arrested the next day in Coshocton where he was involved in a minor accident with another car. The discovery that he was driving a car reported stolen was made by an alert police officer after McFarland and the other driver went to the station to report on the accident and had agreed to pay the damages.

Theodore Lutz, Richland county prosecutor, reported that McFarland has served time in a federal penitentiary on an auto theft charge.

CAR DEFACED

Vandals Also Annoy Residents By Throwing Stones.

More acts of "pre-Halloween" vandalism were reported to police last night, including the defacing of a car's paint and the throwing of stones on the front porches of homes.

Charles Kafer, 484 Sloan avenue, said vandals ruined the paint on his car by "writing obscene words and phrases on it in such a way as to make it impossible to remove them."

An East Arch street resident told of boys peeping into windows of homes and throwing stones on the porches.

Florida Trip Contest Prize

Standard Oil company's annual essay contest on "guaranteed starting" will be set off tomorrow, with a two-weeks' all-expenses paid vacation trip to Florida as the prize.

H. D. Klee, merchandising manager of the Mansfield division office, said contest rules will be available in pamphlet form at each Sohio station in the city tomorrow.

Theme of the contest will be the importance of guaranteed starting to the contest entrant.

The wind-up "guaranteed starting" meeting in the Mansfield-Mt Vernon-Wooster area was held last night at the Sons of Herman hall, with 110 dealers and employes present.

Klee, in charge of the meeting, said that previous meetings had been held in Lorain and Norwalk.

Following the meeting, a buffet supper was served by the Sons of Herman women's organization.

MOOSE TO DINE

Mansfield Moose and their families will partake of a covered-dish dinner tomorrow night at 6:30 at the lodge. A program of entertainment has been planned with music by the lodge's "Sunshine" band.

Far-Reaching Future Seen For Vitamins

Co-operative club members and guests last night heard a prediction of far reaching events to come in the field of vitamin research.

The prediction was made by Louis P. Jisa, Upjohn company representative. He spoke before the club in the Mansfield-Leland hotel on "The Whys and Wherefores of Vitamins."

Explaining that vitamins have always been in man's food and that ancient man seemed to get along without the concentrated vitamins of today, Jisa pointed out that modern methods of food production and living have made necessary vitamin concentrates as an adjunct to medical science

"We make vitamins because people don't eat properly and therefore they are needed," Jisa said. "The purpose of vitamins is the maintainence of good health and to aid in the restoration of the sick to normal conditions as quickly as possible," Jisa concluded.

A discussion of the club's representation at the Cooperative district convention, to be held in Richmond, Ind., preceded Jisa's talk. Jack Kindle, Rocky Callihan, Wayne Hoffman, Bill Locke and Jeff Coleman were named as planning to attend the meeting. Others desiring to attend were requested to contact Hoffman.

R. Earl Brandenberg was chairman of the evening's program.

Approximately 950 Parent-Teachers association members, meeting at seven of the city's elementary schools last night, donated $150 toward the campaign fund to assure approval of the three-mill levy for higher teachers' salaries.

The levy will be placed before voters at the November election.

Dr. Edwin Fensch, director of research of the public schools, said the largest attendance was noted at the Hedges school building where 500 parents and teachers attended a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Community Players Seeking New Blood for Organization

Future of the Community Players in Mansfield is up to the public. That decision was announced today by H. H. Schettler, speaking for the directors and officers of the 20-year-old theatrical organization.

Following a meeting with Community Players officials, Schettler said: "During the war the Players produced only a few plays. And a very small group of people did most of the work. If the Players are to continue, there is need for new blood—lots of it!"

Not only new actors are sought but also anyone interested in staging, directing, set designing, costuming and property handling. The Players can also use help in planning, publicity and production.

Schettler issued a general invitation to anyone interested in joining the Players in any capacity to write to The Mansfield Community Players, Postoffice Box 354.

The Players have had a successful record of 20 years of producing amateur theatricals ranging from drama to light comedy. Schettler said the officers are eager to add to this record if public interest will back their effort.

Akron Bears Tackle Bethlehem Tonight

AKRON —(INS)— Still seeking their first victory, the Akron Bears of the American Pro football league will tackle the Bethlehem Bulldogs at Bethlehem, Pa., tonight.

Following the Bulldog tilt, the Bears will return to Akron for a contest next Sunday with the Scranton Miners, western division leaders.

Bengal II Points For Springfield

Springfield Wildcats will play host to an offensive minded gang of Mansfield Tyger footballers in Springfield's Evans stadium Friday night.

Coach Paul Snyder is still not satisfied with the Bengal offensive, although his charges have outgained every team with the exception of Cleveland East. East picked up 121 yards on the ground to 109 for the Tygers. Mansfield's ground attack has accounted for 967 yards to the opposition's 360.

The Tyger T formation has been functioning smoothly but the single-wing formation has not clicked. Snyder is almost ready to scrap the single-wing but will give it another chance against Springfield. All drills this week have been pointed towards sharpening the attack.

Mansfield romped over Springfield 41 to 6 last season and is favored to win its fifth straight '46 victory Friday night. Kenny Horvath scored a pair of TD's on runs of 74 and 72 yards against the Cats in the '45 tilt.

Springfield has won only one of four games this season but Coach Jim McDonald, ex-Ohio State luminary, has been shuffling his lineup all week to get the best possible combination ready for the Tygers. The Cats dropped their opener to Columbus West, 25 to 13, and then roared back to topple Columbus South, 25 to 0.

Portsmouth defeated Springfield 20 to 14 after a tough battle but a speedy Lima Central eleven slaughtered McDonald's lads 32 to 0 last Friday. Central scored on the first scrimmage play (85-yard run) and the Cats lost heart.

McDonald uses a mixed single-wing and T formation attack.

Tyger Cubs Face Tough Opponent

Mansfield sophomores face a strong Elyria football team tomorrow night at Stadium field, 7:30, in the Tyger cubs' last home night game of the season.

Coach Fred Staub announced that Ken Carver will be in the quarterback slot, replacing Paul Ferguson who suffered a broken arm in the Sandusky game.

The Bengals have defeated Sandusky 7 to 0, Marion 40 to 0, and Bellville 21 to 6.

Barons in Exhibition

DETROIT — (INS) — The 1946 Cleveland Barons journeyed to Detroit today where they will face the Red Wings of the National Hockey league in a pre-season exhibition tomorrow.

HEADLINER: Harry Hart (above) meets Nate Huskey in the ten-round main event of the fight show at the Armory tonight. First bout is at 8:15.

HART AND HUSKEY BATTLE TONIGHT; DICK ALEXANDER IN SEMI-WINDUP

By FRED THARP
News-Journal Sports Editor.

Mansfield boxing fans are assured plenty of action in the fistic festival tonight at the Armory. First battling is set for 8:15.

Harry Hart and Nate Huskey, a couple of smooth working lightweights, collide in the ten-round main event with 20 additional rounds of fighting rounding out the card. The show will be the sixth presented local fandom by Promoters Rex Reese and Sam Miller.

Tonight's headliner marks the first Mansfield appearance of the highly touted Huskey and the second showing of hard-hitting Hart. The latter battler kayoed Mexico's Tony Rios in the ninth chapter of a scheduled ten-round go here last summer.

Huskey, a former California Golden Gloves titleholder, is undefeated since his navy discharge ten months ago and has won 17 of 19 professional fights. He drew with Bob Davis in Frisco and dropped a decision to Boykin Bourgeois in Oakland.

However, Nate came back to take two decisions over both Davis and Bourgeois. Huskey punched his way to three kayoes in the 19 fights and copped two of his last four battles via the knockout route. In his last start he put the damper on Shamus McCrea in San Francisco.

Tonight's battle will be the first eastern appearance of Huskey who has won 16 straight. He arrived in Mansfield Monday afternoon and worked out yesterday in the Buckeye State gym, Park avenue west. Hart is scheduled to arrive from his Delaware home this afternoon.

The fighters will weigh in tonight at the Armory at 7:30.

Dick Alexander, Mansfield favorite, and Woody Louden, Columbus, are rematched in the six-round semi-final. They had been scheduled to go ten rounds but managers of the two welterweights thought that they could make a faster fight over the shorter route.

Alexander squeezed a close decision over Louden here a few months ago and rates the slight favorite tonight. Alexander has won five straight battles in the Armory ring. Dan Pinto, Delaware, fell before the Mansfield 145 pounder here in September.

Pinto gets another chance when he meets Phil Scott, Marion, in one of the supporting four-round bouts.

Veteran trial-horse Lloyd Pine, 138, makes his second local showing in six months against Jackie Rhodes, Massillon, in the other six-round affair on the card. Pine lost to Tommy Welsch here but made a comeback at Mt. Vernon two weeks ago by kayoing Bobby Willison. It was Willison's first defeat in 20 pro fights.

Red Beckholt, 138, Mt. Vernon, and Freddie Tibbs, 136, open the show in a four heat match.

Officials for the show are: Dick Jones and Bill Harry, referees; Sam Morgan, Bill Groscost and Dr. B. W. Stern, judges; Sam Fox, timer, and James Brownscombe, announcer.

Ohio State Buckles Down

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State's football squad is buckling down to practice for Saturday's game at Wisconsin with a determination seldom displayed this fall.

Coach Paul Bixler keynoted the attitude when he declared: "As far as we're concerned, this is the start of the season—our first conference game and we're going to try to be ready mentally as well as physically."

Last night the squad worked long after dark to make up for Monday when the trip to California cut out workouts.

Seven of Bixler's present squad remember a 17-7 "kicking around" an otherwise undefeated Ohio State 1942 team got at Madison—and the Badgers were tough, too, in 1944 when the Bucks won 20-7.

The players who have personal and vengeful memories of the 1942 expedition are Cy Souders, Bob Jabbusch, Hal Dean, Wib Schneider, Chuck Osuri, Dick Palmer and Tommy James.

Before the Bucks leave tomorrow night for Wisconsin and a drill Friday in Jamesville, Bixler wants to work on a defense for the Wisconsin attack which he said tries to spread the opposition out wide and is altogether different from Southern California's.

He also intends to work on the Bucks' passing attack, which has gained a net of only 80 yards with seven completions in 25 attempts for the two games this season.

Whippets Seek Fourth Straight

SHELBY—The Shelby Whippets will be seeking their fourth consecutive win when they travel outside the Northern Ohio league Friday night to play at Ashland.

The Whippets defeated the Ashland eleven, 19 to 7, last year and will be out to better that record this year.

Holder of undisputed first place in the NO league by virtue of its three straight wins and no losses, Coach Al Fendrick's charges will be slight favorites.

Three league games are scheduled Friday night. Bellevue plays at Norwalk, Bucyrus at Galion, and Upper Sandusky at Willard. In another non-league game, Crestline travels to Tiffin Calvert.

Shear Nonsense

The first guy in line at the bleacher entrance to Fenway park, Grover C. Gilmore, arrived Monday night, 38 hours before the starting time of today's game. . . . The third to arrive was a barber, who took one look at Gilmore and then sent to a nearby drugstore for a razor and soap so he could get to work on Gilmore.

Bad News For Wolves

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— For the first time in three weeks, the Army football team had the use today of its famed fullback, Felix (Doc) Blanchard, with assurance that he has completely recovered from a knee injury and will be fit for Saturday's game with Mich-

Rodeo Opens Here Friday

Tex Burwell's Border Legion Patrol makes its debut in Mansfield Friday night at the Armory. The Rodeo opens at 8:30 p. m. and runs through Monday night. There will be matinees Saturday and Sunday for the kiddies starting at 3 p. m.

Burwell has many distinguished performers in his show and one of the main stunts is eight dancing horses that actually square dance. Stand and Polly Insley, trick riders; Billy Noble and Beverly Hornet, comedians, and Curley Medo, all around cowboy, are a few of the showmen with the Rodeo.

Many of these stuntmen have been starred with the Cole Brothers circus and all have broad rodeo backgrounds.

Bobby Jones, bronc-rider, placed in the money at the 1945 Madison Square Garden rodeo, and will be featured in the Mansfield exhibition.

Burwell is the producer and announcer for the show.

Sport Briefs

When the 35 players of the Los Angeles Dons, All-America conference club, voted for captain, Bob Seymour got 34 votes—he didn't vote for himself.

The losing team in six of 12 Orange Bowl football games has registered more first downs than the winning team.

Levi Jackson, Yale's tremendous freshman back, is wearing numeral 40, the same number he carried as a high school star.

Wives of Michigan State players hold special radio parties when their husbands are playing football away from home.

Fifty-seven different colleges have participated in 67 bowl contests since the first Rose Bowl game in 1902.

Three members of the Illinois starting forward wall — Alex Agase, Mike Kasap and Frank Bauman — played on the undefeated, untied Purdue team of 1943.

There were 16 bowl games on Jan. 1, 1946.

Scribe's Sports Scribblings; About Cline, Horvath, Frisbee

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Scrambled scribblings from the sports samovar. . . . It's not often a high school coach is around to celebrate his 20th anniversary at the same old stand. . . . And it's rare indeed when a whole town pauses to doff its hat collectively to a mentor after so long a period of service.

That is exactly what's happening at Coshocton where "Schuyler G. (Sky) Wharton week" is being celebrated. . . . Local citizens are honoring the man who has coached Redskin football and basketball teams since 1926.

The 27th annual bench show and field trials of the Ohio State Fox Hunters association at Jackson the week of Oct. 22 are expected to give Br'er Reynard a bad time. . . . Features of the week are the Derby stake Oct. 23-24 and all-age stake the following three days. . . . John Fuller of Harrisburg, Pa., will be master of hounds.

FRISBEE

The Mansfield Tygers have a backfield that sounds faintly familiar. . . . It lists both an Ollie Cline and a Horvath, but neither lad is related to the heroes of Ohio State's 1945 national champion gridders.

Incidentally, Quarterback Ross Frisbee of the Tygers boasts 11 straight extra-point conversions via the placement method. . . . Herbert Hendricks of little Van Lue high had one of the hottest days of any player this season. . . . He scored five touchdowns as his team defeated Mt. Cory last week.

Ralph Pucci, Canton McKinley's all-Ohio halfback, scored two more touchdowns and two extra points against Niles to bring his seasonal scoring total to 64 points. . . . A couple of other one-man backfields functioning in schoolboy ranks are Ironton's Dick Boykin and Kenton's Wilbur Brown.

One of the real oddities of the football season occurred in Coshocton's clash with Marietta. . . . Karl Sturtz of Coshocton, an all-state backfield nominee last year, tossed a pass that was batted into the air by a Marietta lineman. . . . Sturtz caught the ball, passed it again. . . . And this time an opposing back intercepted. . . . The second pass was ruled illegal.

The swollen squads that confronted college grid coaches this fall were nothing compared to what happened to Coach Harold Anderson of Bowling Green State university. . . . Anderson called his first basketball practice of the year and was greeted by 201 candidates. . . . Among them were 63 former high school captains. . . . Looks like a good year for B. G. despite the loss of Don Otten and Wyndol Gray.

Schedule 'B' Loop Meeting at YMCA

A meeting to organize a commercial "B" basketball league will be held at the YMCA tonight at 7:30.

Ontario Community church, St. Matthew's, First Lutheran, First Presbyterian, Mayflower, and Park Avenue Baptist entered teams in the Senior Church league last night. The First Lutheran and First Presbyterian churches also entered teams in the Junior league. John Fike, athletic instructor, announced that two more teams are needed to complete the league before the deadline for entry blanks and dues on Nov. 5.

Uphold Ruling

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—(INS)—Action of the Southeastern conference's executive committee in declaring Ermal Allen, Kentucky backfield star, ineligible, has been upheld by the conference.

Tyger Harriers Annex Third Win

Coach Harry Mehock's Mansfield Tygers cross country team extended their undefeated record to three as the Bengals out-raced Fremont Ross, 23 to 33, at Coolridge yesterday. Joe Schoop, Tyger, broke the tape with a time of 11 minutes and 23 seconds for the two-mile course.

Following Schoop were Pete Vogt (M), second; Harold Leppert(M), third; Semer (F), fourth; Stetzel (F), fifth; Hoffman (F), sixth; Schell (F), seventh; and Jim Schuler, Gene Carlisle, and Bob Kibler, Mansfield, eighth, ninth and tenth.

Columbus West comes to Mansfield tomorrow to face the Bengals at Coolridge golf course at 4 p. m.

Babe Leads Way Into Second Round of Women's Golf

FT. WORTH, Tex.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, national women's amateur champion from Denver, Colo., today led the way into the second round of the Texas women's open golf championship, following an easy victory yesterday in the opening round.

Mrs. Zaharias, pointing for her fifth championship in six starts this year, easily turned back Mrs. Harold Weilbacher, of San Antonio, 5 and 4.

IT'S FERRISS AND DICKSON IN THIRD

BOSTON—(UP)—A little guy who does his best work away from home and a big fellow who likes to toil before friendly folk went out after the third game of the world series today. Their ball clubs, the Cardinals of St. Louis and the Red Sox of Boston were tied at one game each.

The little fellow with a sharp breaking curve ball and a lot of baseball heart was Murry Dickson, who won the playoff game against Brooklyn which gave the Cards the National league pennant.

His season's record was 15 victories—nine of those triumphs coming on enemy diamonds—and of this six defeats, four of them came at home. So, while he didn't do so well before his home fans when he went out on that pitching mound on foreign fields he was all but invincible.

With Dave (Boo) Ferriss it was a diferent story. Of his 25 victories against six defeats, 13 of his triumphs came at Fenway park, and never once did he leave the mound charged with a defeat. His losses all came away from home.

So Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, confident that this 1946 world series would wind up in his home ground, was counting on his big right-hander to give his club an edge in this vital third game.

He was counting too on the vaunted power of his Red Sox to come through again in the field where they had lost only 17 games in their drive to the American league pennant. That power—except for one mighty blast by big Rudy York—has been missing since the series opened at St. Louis on Sunday.

Dyer, as happy as a schoolboy who had only spent half of his lunch money for milk and then bought a bar of candy without his mother knowing about it, had his plans arranged to wind the series up here, just as Cronin did.

He said Pollet, whose slow-up curve ball didn't break on a pitch to York in the extra inning of the series opener, would come back on Thursday and Brecheen, the shut-out hero, on Friday.

If the series doesn't end in Boston, it would be Dickson again in the sixth game, scheduled for Sportsman's park on Sunday, Saturday being an open date for travel. And if a seventh game is necessary at St. Louis Pollet will be called upon again.

Big Nine Schools Voting On Rose Bowl Participation

By TOMMY DEVINE

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—The annual and spirited bidding by teams in every section of the nation for a coveted Rose Bowl game bid may be ended as the result of a poll in progress today by the Western conference on the desirability of reaching an agreement with the Pacific Coast conference on participation in the post-season grid classic.

Under the proposal being ballotted upon, the Rose Bowl contest would be "closed" for at least three years, with participation limited to members of the two conferences. Thereafter, a non-member school could be invited if the Big Nine or coast schools desire.

While the University of Illinois, the first school to reveal its vote, turned down the proposal, other early ballots were reported to favor the proposition. Several other Big Nine schools already have voted on the question and the remainder are expected to call their athletic boards into session at an early date.

In spite of Illinois' negative vote, the proposal is known to have strong support from some of the conference's more influential members. These hold that an agreement between the Western and Pacific Coast conferences is the only means of combatting "one of the worst commercial aspects of collegiate football."

Seven times in the past nine years, the Rose Bowl bid has gone to a southern team. The Western conference leaders have been outspoken and bitter against these Dixie schools because of their open subsidization of athletes.

The only Big Nine team to play since the inaugural was Ohio State in 1920, which bowed to California. The conference ruling prohibiting post-season play then was passed.

Appleseed at Ashland

Johnny Appleseed junior high school grid team travels to Ashland tomorrow afternoon to play the Ashland junior high school. Coach Norm Henline's gridders have defeated Galion, 45 to 0, and battled Willard to a scoreless tie last week.

Family Fire Drill Urged By Speaker

Nearly 200 members of the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club heard a new "be prepared" suggestion last night.

Harry K. Rogers, the Chicago fire prevention expert, put his suggestion in the form of a question as he spoke at the club's opening dinner meeting of the fall season in the Mansfield-Leland.

"Did you ever gather your family around and decide what you would do in case of a fire at night?"

He urged the foremen to accept their individual responsibility in making home and factories safer from fire.

Drawing on personal experience he told of the full repayment he had received for his years of efforts to make America more fire-conscious when an 11-year-old school girl confided to him that she had saved her life from fire because she remembered advice given by Rogers—known to millions of school children as "Smokey the fire clown."

Rogers, concluding a busy day during which he spoke before groups in senior and junior high schools and the Rotary club, was introduced by the club president, Harry W. Dailey, who announced the next meeting would be held Nov. 5.

Reese Mills, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly.

Fight Fire Loss with

STRAN-STEEL "QUONSET" BUILDINGS

Last year the property loss through fire in the United States was $500,000,000. On farms alone the damage was $100,000,000. And both those figures leave out the fearful cost of lost production, lost time, worry.

Stran-Steel "Quonset" buildings are framed with steel and covered with steel to help combat this destruction on the farm, in industry, in commerce. There are no inflammable beams, studs or joists to spread fire from one section to another...no inflammable siding or roofing to "go up in smoke."

When you need a new building, take advantage of the modern Stran-Steel "Quonsets" to get one that is fire-resistant. See your Stran-Steel dealer for complete information on the "Quonset 20," "Quonset 24" and "Quonset 40." They are adaptable to all sorts of building needs.

"Quonset" buildings are products of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a unit of National Steel Corporation

PETER'S DISCOVERY

Full satisfaction is attained
When for ourselves is knowledge gained. —Peter Rabbit.

"I wonder," said Peter Rabbit.

"You are always wondering. What is it now?" asked Mrs. Peter.

"I wonder where all the Swallows spend the night," said Peter.

"That's so. I wonder myself," replied Mrs. Peter.

For several days Forktail the Barn Swallow and a countless number of other Swallows had filled the air above the Green Meadows and the dear Old Briar-patch, or had set in seemingly endless rows on the telephone wires beside the road. Where they had come from Peter couldn't imagine. Forktail told him they had come from all over, but that didn't mean much.

"I hadn't dreamed that there were so many birds of one kind in all the Great World," Peter confided to Mrs. Peter, and she had agreed. But that didn't mean much either for they had seen little of the Great World outside the Old Briar-patch.

"I wonder if they roost together or if they scatter and each finds a hiding-place," said Peter. He was thinking of the Swallows at night.

"Where can so many roost together? And if they don't do that where can they find enough separate hiding-places?" asked Mrs. Peter.

"They don't go far," said Peter.

"How do you know they don't?" Mrs. Peter promptly wanted to know.

"Because they don't leave until almost shadow time, and they are back again the very first thing in the morning," explained Peter.

"Perhaps they hide in the trees of the Green Forest," suggested Mrs. Peter.

"Perhaps, but I doubt it. They are not tree loving birds," replied Peter.

"Then why is Skimmer, Forktail's cousin with the white breast, called the Tree Swallow?" demanded practical Mrs. Peter.

"Because he and Mrs. Skimmer make their nest in an old home of Drummer the Woodpecker when they can't find a house put up specially for them. But, my dear, perhaps you have noticed that when they do nest in a tree it is in one that stands alone out in the open, or on the edge of the Green Forest or the edge of the Old Orchard, or near water. I don't believe they like the Green Forest. I don't believe they go there even to sleep. I would expect those Swallows to come to the Briar-patch for the night as soon as to the Green Forest. And it is the same with Forktail," said Peter.

"Then where do they go? They have to go somewhere," Mrs. Peter retorted.

"If we watch perhaps we can find out," replied Peter hopefully.

Peter did his best but it was not easy to see where they went for they flew swiftly, turning, twisting, circling, some high anud some low, spreading out over the Green Meadows. They were catching their supper of flying insects. No single bird could be watched. After a while Peter realized that there were none between him and the dear Old Briar-patch. He hurried home.

"Did you see where they went?" asked Mrs. Peter.

"No," confessed Peter. "The last I saw were over toward the Big River."

Mrs. Peter nodded. "They seemed to be going that way when they passed here," she said.

Without a word Peter started off lipperty, lipperty lip, straight toward the Big River. It was dusk when he got there. Cautiously peeping over the bank he saw two or three Swallows drop out of sight in the rushes and wild rice growing for quite a distance out in the shallow water. Quietly he moved down to the water's edge. From all sides came faint, sleepy twitters. Peering among the nearest rushes he made out small dark forms clinging to them.

"So this is the place!" he exclaimed under his breath. "And I discovered it all by myself," he added happily.

STOCK PRICES HANG ON WITH LITTLE CHANGE

Tape Moves Spasmodically, Showing No Indication of Pressure.

NEW YORK —(INS)— Stocks eased this morning, carrying over the selling which hit the list late yesterday.

Declines running to a point and more were suffered in the first few minutes of trading although volume was low. Around 10:30 some buying appeared. The ticker tape moved only occasionally, however, and there seemed no concerted price action either way.

Early losses included a drop of 1¾ in Johns-Manville, 1½ in Standard Oil of N. J., 1¾ in Chrysler and a point in American Telephone.

Later these were reduced with such leaders as Chrysler, Bethlehem, General Motors holding at last night's close or just small fractions below. U. S. Steel was a small fraction higher, as was Schenley, International Telephone and Anaconda.

Bonds were depressed with some of the secondary rails off as much as a point.

CLEVELANDER TO SPEAK AT FUND 'KICK-OFF'

John A. Green Will Help City Launch Its Annual Red Feather Campaign.

More than 300 Community Fund workers received in the mail today invitations from the Brandenberg Chevrolet company to attend the "kickoff" campaign breakfast Monday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

This is the second consecutive year the company has served as host for the event. The breakfast is scheduled for 8:30 a. m.

Breakfast speaker, John A. Green, past president of the Cleveland Community Fund, will be introduced by the Mansfield campaign chairman, W. E. Slabaugh, jr. Mrs. Richard Uhl of the YWCA will be in charge of arrangements and a committee of high school girls will serve as ushers.

With the start of the $94,067 drive less than a week away, publicity for the campaign went into high gear today.

Heads of all city departments were addressed by Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, chairman of the fund's speakers' bureau yesterday. He spoke on the fund's organization and work.

Don Cram of the YMCA and Frank Burton, city park superintendent, began painting the huge Red Feather thermometers" which will go up in Central Park Monday. Each day's receipts in the drive will be indicated on the thermometers.

Donald G. Ogden and Howard Richards, co-chairmen of the industrial division, reported that they have already begun plans for drives at industrial plants in the city.

On the lighter side, a Pluto the Pup cartoon entitled, "A Feather On His Collar," will run this week at the Ohio and Madison theaters and throughout next week at the Park theater. The cartoon is Walt Disney's contributions to the Community Chests of America for the 1946 drive.

TELLS SECRET

Woman Says Mrs. Goebbels, Hitler Had Son.

MUNICH, Germany—(AP)—Mrs. Otto Meissner, wife of Adolf Hitler's former secretary of state, has disclosed the deceased fuehrer as a sentimental lover who sired a son born to the wife of Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi propaganda minister.

The son was born in March, 1935, and died in the suicide of the Goebbels family in the last days before Berlin's fall in the spring of 1945 to the Russians, Mrs. Meissner said in an interview yesterday.

Goebbels knew Hitler was the child's father and "took advantage of this knowledge," she said, but otherwise the fact was kept so secret "I am the only survivor who knows it."

GIVE EVIDENCE

Russians Seek to Bare Jap 'Tanaka Memorial' Plan.

TOKYO—(U.P.)—The Soviet Union will present evidence in the war crimes trial against 27 leading Japanese suspects designed to prove the actual existence of the "Tanaka Memorial," which allegedly served as an outline for Japan's plans for world aggression, it was learned today.

The evidence will be contained in an affidavit by former Cossack General Grigori Mikhailovich Seminov, recently convicted and hanged as a traitor. Seminov fought against the Russians with the support of the Japanese. He was captured in Manchuria after the war ended.

AAF Squadron Members Await Training Planes

Members of the Mansfield squadron of the Air Force association awaited today definite word on when army training planes will be brought here for their use.

Two officers of the 4163rd AAF base unit at the Cleveland Municipal airport met yesterday at the Tappan Stove company with officers of the Mansfield squadron to discuss plans to bring the planes here, probably next week.

As a step to assure use of Army training planes by the Mansfield squadron, forms were being made ready today for mailing to former AAF officers and enlisted men who already had registered. Forms for those not yet signed up will be available through Joe Lesch at Yuncker Brothers, Inc., 116 North Main street. The forms must be filled out by those desiring to sign with the unit.

First phase of the training will be for former pilots with a flying status while the second phase will include all other crew members, both former officer and enlisted personnel. To be qualified, personnel must have had their medical 64 form cleared less than one year ago.

Officers from Cleveland who attended yesterday's meeting were Col. Charles A. Bassett and Capt. B. L. Lombardy. They met with Gerald Kunkle, temporary commander of the Mansfield squadron; Alan Tappan, James McConnell, R. B. Gardner, Robert McClurg, Robert Aungst and Joe Lesch.

The Mansfield squadron is being sponsored by the JayCees.

Rancher Saves 3-Legged Deer

THE DALLES, Ore. — (U.P.) — Bambi, the three-legged deer, will live and be a pet at the Emory Thompson ranch near here.

The young buck, found limping in a pasture, with a bad fracture, was taken to a veterinarian, who decided on amputation to save Bambi's life. State law forbids keeping deer in captivity. So Thompson made formal application to state authorities, and under the circumstances, it was decided Thompson could keep it.

BOY THIEVES REPRIMANDED

Four Youths Admit Stealing Candy, Gun and Bike.

Three boys from Mansfield and one from Shelby confessed to thefts ranging from candy bars to a shotgun and bicycle in three cases in juvenile court yesterday.

The court placed two brothers, 11 and 12 years old, on probation for 10 weeks, directing that they report to the court each Saturday during that period, and warned their parents that they must make restitution to Sepharo's store for the confessed theft of candy bars, tablets and pennies.

Following his confession to the theft of stealing a shotgun from the home of Walter Bobo, 125 home avenue, a 15-year-old Mansfield boy was placed on probation to his father and ordered to pay back $9 at the rate of $1 each week from his earnings. The father was ordered to report to the court in 60 days.

The court directed the 11-year-old Shelby boy to go home evenings on the school bus after school and directed his father to pay back $5 on the bike the boy confessed to stealing from the Castamba theater Sept. 21.

New Type Motor Uses No Gasoline

MINNEAPOLIS —(U.P.)— Two former airplane mechanics in World War I believe they can revolutionize automobile travel.

J. J. Riley and his brother, A. L. Riley, have developed an air-processing mechanism which they are convinced will eliminate the gasoline tank, the fuel line and the carburetor. The device uses hydrogen and oxygen to power a motor. The mechanism has two tanks in which air is chemically processed and water vapor removed. Pure oxygen and hydrogen are left.

Meat Dearth Stirs Nation

2. The OPA disclosed that 24 different industries—ranging from beef packers to representatives of the coffee, cosmetics, women's hosiery and facial tissue industries—are trying to win freedom from price controls.

3. In Chicago, the National Association of Retail Grocers said a 38-state survey of retailers in 68 cities disclosed that meat supplies in September were only 18 per cent of the meat received in August, when price controls were off.

In Washington, the agriculture department said meat produced under federal inspection last week was up five per cent over the previous week, but was 69 per cent below the corresponding week of 1945.

4. Beef industry leaders voted 11 to 1 to press their battle against price ceilings on meat. But their action, in the form of a petition to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, will be delayed by technicalities until the end of this week or early next week.

5. Rep. Jed Johnson (D., Okla.) said he strongly urged Secretary Anderson to lift meat price controls and added, "I took it he agreed with me. As I recall it, he said, 'You may be right'."

6. The OPA considered possible means of spreading the meat supply out of a fair-share-for-all basis. An OPA official told a reporter that meat buyers living near slaughterers are getting more meat than distant purchasers.

TWO-TERM RULE PUT IN BYLAWS

Red Cross Chapter Directors Discuss Amendments.

Amendment of Mansfield Red Cross chapter by-laws to provide for a rotating board of directors was the major item discussed at yesterday's meeting of Red Cross directors.

Reports on meetings held in Warren, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa., were given by Mansfield chapter representatives who attended.

Under the amendment, board members may serve three years and be re-elected to succeed themselves only once. After one re-election, they are ineligible to sit on the board until at least one year has elapsed.

Sam Campbell, Mrs Bess Augsberger, F. Elias, Mrs. R. M. Loos, and Mrs B. R. Preston, attended the meeting at Warren which emphasized Red Cross volunteer special service.

Miss Esther Barnett reported on the meeting held in Pittsburgh which dealt with future plans for the Red Cross Home Service.

Campbell, chairman of the local chapter, presided at yesterday's meeting.

Girl's Slayer Faces Life Term

AKRON — (INS) — James J. Bickett, 50-year-old confessed killer of his stepdaughter, awaited today an automatic life imprisonment sentence after a three-judge panel found him guilty of first degree murder.

Judges Frank H. Harvey, Claude V. C. Emmons and Ray B. Watters, of Summit county common pleas court, recommended mercy for the suburban Cuyahoga Falls man, who had pleaded guilty to murder.

New York Sugar Shortage Acute

NEW YORK—(INS)—The sugar shortage in the metropolitan area became acute today. The local sugar shortage was intensified by the trucking strike in addition to the general shortage throughout the nation.

Candy makers were forced to shut down for the most part and bakeries reduced their production of pies and cakes. Hotels and restaurants also were hit hard. Grocers had no sugar to sell to housewives and there appeared little chance that stocks would be replenished in time to allow users cash in on sugar stamps 9 and 10 which become worthless at the end of the month.

TAVERNS FIGHT BAN

CIRCLEVILLE —(AP)— Tavern keepers were reported today planning legal action to prevent enforcement of Police Chief William F. McGrady's order banning sale of intoxicants here during the pumpkin show Oct. 16-19. Chief McGrady based his order on an old statute prohibiting liquor sales within two miles of an agricultural fair.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Physical Handicaps Stir Ambition

WHILE chief emphasis, in the current observance of "National Employ the Physically Handicapped week," is being placed on encouraging employment of war veterans who were physically disabled during their period of service, the broader purpose is to direct attention to the desirability of finding suitable employment for ALL physically handicapped persons who are able and willing to do some kind of work, rather than that they be compelled to endure the boredom and discouragement of long idleness.

The record of valuable service performed by handicapped persons has been amazing, and this promises to show continued improvement as fields of opportunity are broadened by successful experimentation.

A national health survey has established that more than seven persons per thousand of population need rehabilitation services, including physical restoration, guidance, counsel and vocational training to make them employable, and it has been demonstrated that the kinds of jobs that can be satisfactorily filled by handicapped persons run the full gamut of occupations, trades, services and professions.

Many people think of the handicapped as those who have lost an arm or leg, but there are sometimes disabilities that aren't visible, and these must be taken into account in checking opportunities for REAL jobs, not makeshift or semi-charity jobs.

Experience among those who have employed physically handicapped persons has shown that, in many instances, they are better and more dependable persons than some employes who are credited with being physically OK.

It was found, for instance, absenteeism was surprisingly low among handicapped employes; that the labor turnover was lower; that efficiency was equal, and in some cases higher, and that the accident record was better.

While this one week is being specially observed for emphasis on the subject, the problem is one that will take many weeks and months to solve in the best possible way —one that must be faced continuously and understandingly by employers, public agencies and the public in general.

Have You Read 'Hiroshima'? Then Do!

A WEEK'S moratorium on trivial thinking is suggested by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature. He advises following the example of the New Yorker magazine, which gave its entire August 31 issue to publication of John Hersey's magnificent—but terrifying—account of the bombing of Hiroshima, and its dreadful aftermath.

It is advised that no person indulge in loose talk about "another war" before reading this factual account of what happened in Hiroshima immediately after that city was hit by an atomic bomb—and during the hours, days, weeks and months that followed.

When it is taken into account that the bomb dropped on Hiroshima was no more than a midget destructive force, compared with the "improved" A-bombs that will be in readiness for future warfare—IF there is another war—the horror of atomic bomb attacks are unimaginable.

The story of Hiroshima is far from being pleasant reading, but it should be MUST reading for every literate American —and should be read aloud to persons who cannot read—and translated for those who do not understand English.

It is fortunate that "Hiroshima," as it is called, will be procurable very soon in book form. The Book of the Month club is offering it as a November "dividend," and two publishing houses promise it in early November for over-the-counter sale.

An interesting sidelight is that the issue of the New Yorker in which the original presentation was made, has already become a collector's item, with some New York dealers in back numbers selling copies for as much as $2.

Good Behavior Wins Commendation

WHILE much is being said about youthful misbehavior and "juvenile delinquency" it is heartening to hear such complimentary references to Mansfield's Senior and Junior high students as were made yesterday by that famous Chicago fire fighter, Harry K. (Smoky) Rogers, who included these school groups in connection with other talks given here as a part of Fire Prevention week observance.

He was very favorably impressed by the excellent behavior and close attention of the young people in these schools, and his experience in speaking before school groups has been so extensive as to make him an excellent judge of such matters.

It is also worthy of mention that the conduct of the Mansfield high school football team, during last week's visit to Portsmouth, won favorable comment in that city, and this was not exceptional as similar commendation has come in practically every instance when high school athletic teams or bands made out-of-town trips.

Making due allowance for youthful enthusiasm, there is still a distinct line of demarcation between natural display of high spirits and such boisterous misconduct as justifies adverse criticism, and it is pleasant to know that Mansfield's Senior and Junior high school groups have gained the enviable reputation of knowing how to "behave themselves" whether at home or away from home.

Planning for Future Research

DURING the 50th anniversary celebration of the start of the automobile industry, Henry Ford II announced a Ford Research and Engineering Center costing $50,000,000 to be built at Dearborn, Michigan. In eight buildings on a 500-acre tract, all phases of motor engineering will be studied. Also there is planned a program devoted to "human engineering," whatever that may be. General Motors, too, is to have a similar vast research plant near Detroit.

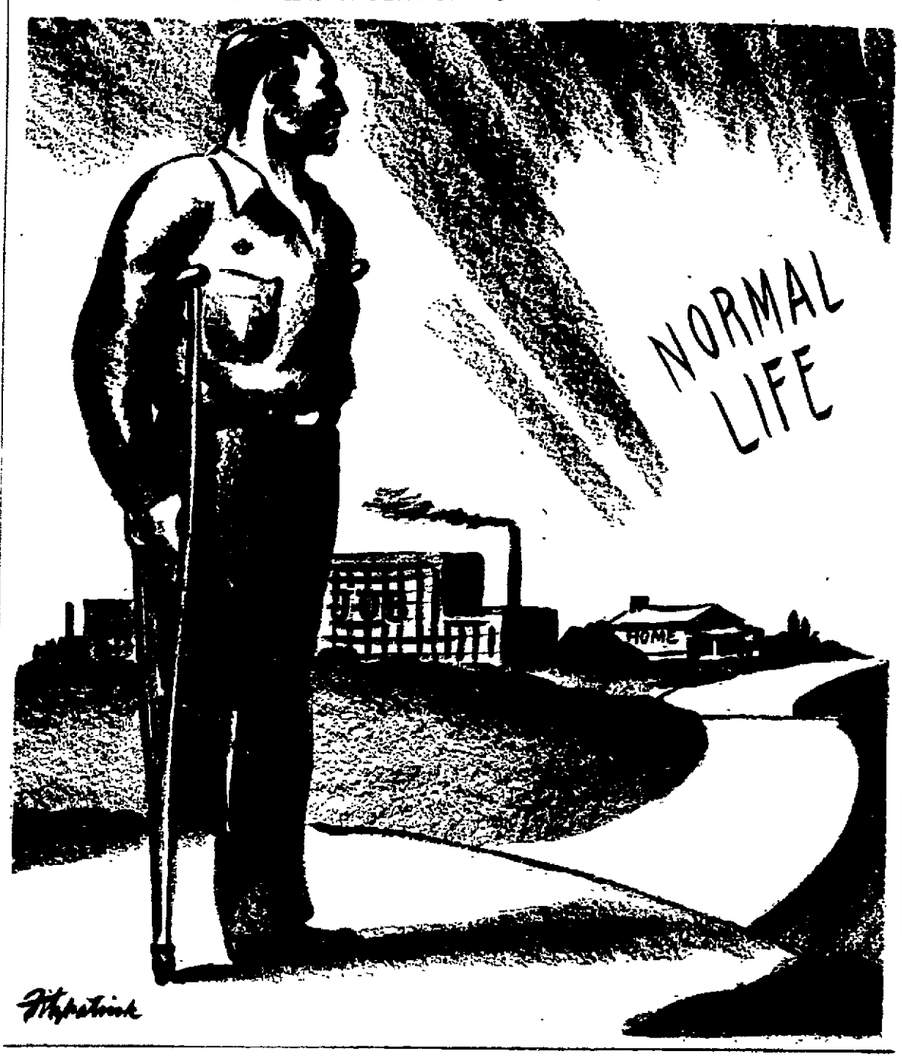
Here is pure science linked with the practical, all of it looking long into the future. It should mean greater efficiency, ease and comfort. But will it advance peace and happiness, too, for mankind?

One economical reader sees an advantage in paying 98 cents for a pound of butter, instead of a dollar—it leaves two cents with which to buy postal cards to write to your congressman and senator.

Thanks to the industrial shutdown, due to strikes, Pittsburgh is no longer "the smoky city"—if that was the real objective.

America's "horn of plenty" is still ready to be put back in action—it's merely stopped up for awhile.

THERE'S WORK HE CAN DO WELL



Klansmen Chosen By Talmadge Will Continue to Rule Georgia

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Today Gene Talmadge, the red-gallused gentleman from Georgia, convenes the state Democratic convention in Macon to prepare plans for Gene's forthcoming reign as governor of Georgia. In keeping with state tradition, Talmadge's opponents, Ed Rivers and Jimmy Carmichael (the latter actually received a larger vote than Talmadge) have surrendered their delegates to Gene and he will have complete sway over the Democratic party.

Taking advantage of that sway, Talmadge has had the brass to appoint as delegates the most variegated array of Ku Klux Klanners Georgia has seen in years. Talmadge delegates who will chart the future course of the Democratic party read like a roll call of the nightshirt brigade at Stone Mountain. Here are some of them:

Dr. Samuel Green, grand dragon for Georgia.

Sam Roper, exalted cyclops of Atlanta Klan No. 297; attends meetings in his police uniform; former head of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation under Talmadge.

Luke Arnold, recorder court judge, member of Atlanta Klan No. 1, speaks also at other klanverns.

A. W. Callaway, recorder court judge, attends Atlanta Klan No. 1.

Howard Haire, city councilman and mayor pro tem, member Klan No. 1.

Joe Allen, city councilman, attends Klan No. 1. Allen was recently present in a professional gambling house when a sensational shooting occurred. As a result, he was forced to resign as a member of the governing board of his church, but his status both as a klansman and member of the Atlanta city council continues unimpaired.

O. B. Cawthon, city councilman, attends Klan No. 1 and East Atlanta Klan.

F. Lee Evans, city councilman, long-time secretary of Atlanta Klan headquarters.

Cecil Hester, city councilman and police commissioner, member Klan No. 1.

Ellis Barrett, county commissioner, attends Klan No. 1.

Neil G. Ellis, assistant chief, Atlanta police department, attends Klan No. 1.

Jimmie Helms, city detective, head of Kloklan committee, Klan No. 1.

R. E. Jones and O. R. Jones, county and city detectives, attend Atlanta Klan 297.

H. C. Edson, Klansman and brother of a Klansman convicted in East Point Klan flog case.

Dr. R. H. Eubanks, active speaker in Klan No. 1.

Vester Ownby, former cyclops of Riverside (Atlanta) Klan; now chief spokesman for new outfit "the Columbians" who describe themselves as "40 times worse than the Klan."

These are the gentlemen who will do Talmadge's bidding at a convention (Konvention is a better name) which will set policy for the Democratic party during the next four years. And since the Democratic party is all-powerful in Georgia, what this convention does will be the law in Georgia.

Among other things, it plans to abolish all rules regulating primaries — and whoever wins the primary wins the final election in Georgia. It will also undertake plans to stop trains and buses at state lines in order to overrule the U. S. Supreme Court on Jim Crow laws.

Talmadge's boast is: "Gene always keeps his promises." And no matter how far it turns back the clock, the above-named Klansmen will help him keep them.

Truculent Turtle's Fire.

Flight Commander Thomas D. Davies and crew members of the navy's Truculent Turtle will make a detailed report to the navy department of a scientific phenomenon that occurred while their ice-crusted plane was flying at 12,000 feet between Reno, Nevada, and Ogden, Utah.

The propeller of the Truculent Turtle was enveloped by a huge halo of "St. Elmo's fire," an electromagnetic discharge that resembles a greenish-blue flame and is four times as bright as the northern lights.

"St. Elmo's fire" is not new to science. It's discovery dates back to the Middle Ages, when the same kind of electrical glow was observed around church steeples.

However, Commander Davies will report that never before in his experience as a navy pilot has an airplane undergone such a freakish hazard.

Small fingers of the blinding electrical flame darted up inside the bulletproof windshield, not inside the cockpit, but inside the very glass itself, creating a strange neon effect. Commander Davies disclosed in a preliminary report to superior officers at the navy department.

Meantime, all radio reception in the Truculent Turtle was cut off.

"It made our hair stand on end for a while," Commander Davies reported to friends. "Of course, I knew that we were safe, because the gas tanks were well protected inside the plane, but it's hard to be objective when you are up in the clouds at night in a cockpit and something like that hits you."

Later, when the plane's windshield was examined, no apparent damage had been done to the glass by the freakish incident.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Saturday, Oct. 9, 1926.

Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff announced that output of five new wells southwest of city added three millions a day to Mansfield's water supply and that plans for a $200,000 storage reservoir had been approved by the state board of health.

Annual meeting of University club was held at Westbrook Country club and Frank L. Hanson was re-elected president.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sayles, 460 West Fourth street, held reception on twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Miss Gertrude Dickey, Park avenue west, left for Boston to attend Leland Powers school.

Miss Virginia Pitzer and Fred Sweetman were married by Rev. A. S. Wolfe.

Fifteen new arrivals brought reformatory population to 2,182.

Miss Leeta Ruhl, student at Kindergarten school Western Reserve, was home for the weekend.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On October 9, 1651, the English parliament passed the first Navigation act to affect the American colonies. The act was aimed at the Dutch carrying-trade.

Dave Boone Says:

THE north magnetic pole has just been discovered to be 200 miles from where it's always been supposed to be. That just goes to show the shape the world is in everywhere today!

* * *

I suppose the Democrats will blame the Republicans and the G.O.P. will say the New Deal did it.

* * *

The magnetic pole is vital in charting exact positions, but even now that it's been accurately located I don't think we'll find out where we are for years to come. The SNAFU is too deep.

* * *

That must be why baseball has such a grip on the people of this country. They always know where to find it: it never gets completely lost: the rules stay the same: nobody wants to veto it, and no Washington administration has ever tried to operate it better, cheaper or in accord with a new economy.

Safety for Pedestrians.

Editor News-Journal:

After spending a beautiful October Sunday walking with my wife along Mansfield streets, it was again forcibly brought home to me, how badly the motorists of Mansfield need some education in traffic laws.

As we walked toward the Square along Park avenue east, by actual count, we saw three motorists disregard red lights at two different intersections, and in one instance an aged lady on foot was compelled to scramble hastily to the curb to escape being run down.

In the downtown section the same conditions prevail in slightly less degree, except that there is a uniform total disregard of pedestrian rights in ANY section of the city.

It seems to both my wife and I that it is about time a program of some sort, aimed at wising up motorists on pedestrian rights be undertaken by the proper city officials.

Here's to a safer and better Mansfield, in which we can all live, secure in the knowledge that no motorist, in a great rush to get to the corner grocery, will take someone's life, and then regret the accident for the rest of his own life.

Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic spokesman in N. Y. State, says the meat shortage is a Republican plot to embarrass the national Democratic administration. It appears that Henry Wallace has not quite succeeded and is getting outside help.

Now if the Republicans can get the people to believe Mr. Fitzpatrick . . . that they control the meat supply . . . they stand a wonderful chance to be elected. And in appreciation they should toss Mr. Fitzpatrick a bone . . . with meat on it.

But it's nice to know meat is so closely tied in with politics that if we vote right we can go directly from the polls to the butcher shop.

Assignment: America

—By KENNETH L. DIXON

More Than A-Bombs Must Be Considered.

WASHINGTON—This is heresy, of course, but could it be possible that, in our efforts to promote world peace, we've been putting too much emphasis on the atomic bomb and overlooking some of the other high-ranking potential horrors of modern warfare?

All during the past weekend, I have listened to learned men, sharp-witted scientists, political leaders and military maestros express regret at what they termed "the average citizen's lackadaisical attitude toward a future war."

Each time, they have concluded their comments by shouting that people refuse to realize that the atom bomb (still a mythical thing, at best, to millions of citizens) could destroy all civilization.

Assuming that they're right about that attitude—which, after a year of touring America, I doubt—why don't they quit concentrating on the atom bomb and start discussing the several other potential weapons of war which could make another world-wide conflict equally horrible?

For the moment, let's quit trying to impress people with the effectiveness of the atom bomb, but continue trying to impress them with the complete suicidal possibilities of another war.

We can be much more graphic in other fields. . . . Let's try bacteriology, as a beginner.

One of the most dramatic points of the atom bomb is that it could destroy a city the size of New York in a few hours—or days, counting the victims who survive long enough to suffer a lingering death—by merely managing to get a few planes over with a handful of the lethal missiles.

Yet a bacteriological battle could accomplish the same result with much less military effort.

A few hand-picked operators could be spotted here and there about Manhattan (no war has yet been free of spies and saboteurs) with a handful of test-tubes. At least one of them could easily manage to dump one test-tube's contents into the New York water system.

By sundown that evening—assuming that the most dissolute New Yorker occasionally takes a drink of water—the entire city would be doomed to death.

Multiply that by the population of whatever number of cities you choose and your answer will be the complete death toll of such a bacteriological warfare.

And citizens who have seen epidemics of typhoid, Bubonic plague and the like will not doubt that bacteriologists have progressed that far. Believe me, they have!

That is only the beginning. No matter what the debunkers say, poison gas still remains a potent weapon—one which can be concocted offensively much swifter than it can be combatted defensively.

We still have mammoth stores of poison gases. So do other nations. And the world still has many veterans of the next-to-the-last war who are living, suffering testimony to the efficiency of poison gas.

If you have remained in fairly close touch with war department press releases alone, you know that rocket-propelled infantrymen no longer are mere figments of the imagination. You know rocket tanks, capable of hurdling any type of obstacle, can be quipped with bullets, with shells, with flame-throwers, with atomic missile projectors or with poison gas spray guns.

(In Belgium, I watched an entire German battalion surrender, terrified, because the Second Armored division borrowed a couple of British tank flamethrowers and demonstrated their efficiency on a few trees at the edge of the enemy's castle stronghold.)

I repeat: Those are only a few of the proven potential weapons. There are the piggy-back bombers which carry their own fighter-plane protection as well as the lethal atomic weapons in their bellies. . . . There are the radio-controlled rockets which can pinpoint any place on the globe, carrying any of the aforementioned man-killers. . . . There are the islands-in-the-sky (first planned by the Germans) which can, quite conceivably, shade or multiply the sun's rays and freeze or scorch into extinction any continent on the earth.

Those are the things we face in another war. The deadly germs in a water system can pollute the seven seas. The poison gas, if potent enough, can gradually encircle the globe. Even the flame-thrower can spread and eliminate an entire continent.

The point seems obvious and, I believe, should be stressed: Even without the atom bomb, the earth cannot survive another war.

Timely Editorial

Onward and Upward.

A "Gazelle boy" said to have been captured recently in a Transjordan desert could run at a speed of 50 miles an hour on a diet of plant life.

Now he is fast acquiring the ways of civilization. He imitates everyone around him in the hospital to which he was admitted. He has learned to eat bread, meat and other civilized foods.

And, if he follows the normal evolutions of man, he soon will stop running 50 miles an hour. In fact, he won't walk to the corner drug store, if any other means of conveyance is available. — Toledo Blade.

Oregon Returns to Republican Fold.

PORTLAND, Ore. — The outstanding political fact in Oregon this election year is that her ruling elders—political, business and financial — are watching more closely and are more concerned about what happens in her sister state of Washington.

The visitor quickly becomes conscious how different the two states are in politics and in other ways, close neighbors as they are and with similar interests.

Oregon, always more conservative for reasons that go back to her settlement and her development, is staid and soberly Republican once again.

It is difficult for many of her people to understand the unruly sister, still rampant with radicalism that keeps the southern twin nervous and anxious. And there is a strain of the missionary spirit in Oregon—also going back to the sort of folks that settled the state —that yearns for conversion of the errant sister.

There is, it is true, little to be concerned about politically this year at home, as far as public offices go. It is generally conceded that Oregon will re-elect her Republican governor, Earl Snell—rarely as she gives second terms to governors—and that she will return her four Republican congressmen to the house.

In recent years Oregon has had a full Republican house delegation, having returned to the fold locally, and her representation has been Republican for many years in the senate. The state did go flouncing off after Franklin D. Roosevelt four times.

But it disturbs the state's political and economic leadership to see their neighbor still all stirred up over New Dealism. They would like to see her shake off New Dealism and get in line. For economic interests — which operate through the political medium —know no state lines and have much the same objectives all along the Pacific coast as elsewhere.

Consequently, where these people gather, you hear earnest conversation about whether Harry P. Cain, the aggressive young Republican hopeful—and one of the most colorful new political personalities to appear in this section—will defeat the studious New Deal Senator Hugh B. Mitchell in Washington. They are making bets around the club bars about it. Oregon has no senatorial contest this year.

The interest here among the political and financial leadership in what happens in Washington dramatizes the still raging conflict over New Dealism. This relates to the spread of public power, now being resisted strenuously by private power, banking and financial interests; to labor, and to still remaining government restrictions, chiefly OPA, which affect the big lumber industry, among others.

Oregon looks rather ruefully, on occasions also, at her neighbor to the south, with particular reference to Southern California, where all sorts of strange doctrines take root.

Chief concern in the election here this year is an importation from that spot. There is on the ballot for referendum a Townsend-type measure that would impose a three per cent gross income tax to finance pensions of $100 a month for all persons over $60 and all over 18 who are unemployable, with an exemption up to $1,200 to cover those affected. A similar proposal was beaten two years ago, but not by too substantial a margin.

Denmark Burdened By Prisoners of War.

COPENHAGEN—Trying to put together the jigsaw puzzle of Europe sometimes seems a hopeless task. The bits and pieces have been scattered so far and wide by the convulsion of war.

You discover a stray bit here in this little country. A year and a half after the end of the European phase of the war, 200,000 German refugees are still quartered in Denmark. When they can be sent back, no one seems to know.

It costs the Danish government about one-third of the national budget to feed and house these people. More than 90 per cent of the refugees came from the Russian-occupied zone of Germany. They fled into Denmark in the early spring of 1945 as the victorious Soviet armies swept on toward Berlin.

They behaved like typical members of the "master race," forcibly driving the Danes from castles, schools and institutions that seemed to promise the most comfortable quarters.

With the German surrender, the Danish government rounded up these unwelcome visitors and put them in carefully guarded camps. A small country with a pride of culture and tradition, the Danes were taking no chances on an infusion of aliens on such a scale.

Ever since then, the government has been trying to send them back to their own land. Several months ago, Denmark's able Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen, a career diplomat, talked with Stalin in Moscow. Among other things, he put up to him the problem of the refugee Germans out of the Russian zone.

Stalin said the Russians would take 100,000 in their zone on condition that the British and the Americans took the balance in their part of Germany.

Rasmussen told me that he put this proposition up to the American and British commanders in early June. Up to the present, he has had no reply and the refugees will spend another winter as unwilling and unwanted guests.

One of the largest of 120 camps where these Germans are housed is near Copenhagen. In wooden barracks bought from Sweden, some 18,000 people live, most of them women and children.

They are largely of peasant stock, at least 80 per cent of them coming from the part of Germany that has been incorporated into Poland under the terms of the Potsdam agreement. The contrast with the kind of concentration camps that the Nazis maintained for unwanted foreigners is an object lesson in decency.

The food they get equals about 2400 calories a day. Under the watchful eye of Danish guards, they are allowed to choose their own section leaders, and the work of the camp is largely self-administered.

The Danish director of the camp is Captain Harold Nielsen. Captain Nielsen was one of the first Danish underground leaders to be taken by the Gestapo. He spent nearly three years in a prison camp in Germany.

On his face are the marks of what he endured. It is a strong face, a good face, in which there are compassion and understanding and great strength of character.

"I learned in Germany," he says, "how not to treat human beings. I hope that by giving these people humane treatment we will help to make them understand what humanity means. But I am not too hopeful."

Farmer's Diary: "Land of Milk and Honey."

ON THESE meatless October days when the morning air is chill and the evening haze is full of glinting webs that float across the land in long graceful arcs, there is an elemental satisfaction in coming home to a typical "garden" dinner.

Oven fried potatoes, perhaps sleek brown spuds that you grew and dug yourself; creamed turnips . . . pulled out of the soft earth with their round purple and white sides gleaming, and the earthiness rooted in their very flavor. bowl of crisp leaf lettuce, with small tender carrots mounded upon it; applesauce made from dropped apples, cooked peelings and all, then sieved, sweetened and cinnamoned.

Or maybe it is baked green limas, baked spuds, and a fresh corn pone, with butter just churned, and a glass of cold milk for each youngster. Ripe tomatoes with salt and pepper, baked apples with sugar and cream, or drizzled with honey, and perhaps a dab of cottage cheese.

Pumpkin pie is a valuable food, as well as a delicious one; custard is a simple dessert if milk and eggs are plentiful; little red beets, pickled, or buttered, or cooked tops and all, like greens, make a pleasant root variation. Sweet potatoes are quick to prepare; baked beans are still an old standby. There are noodles or rivvles, homemade, that combine with chicken or potatoes to make a one-dish meal of surpassing goodness.

Cookery is an art. One-dish meals are a boon . . . so are oven dinners. Fresh cornmeal can be had . . . applebutter time is here . . . country kitchens are busy with kraut, and ketchup and piccalilli.

There's a savor to that spicy vinegary smell. There's a flavorful goodness in eating. Sharpened appetites belong with corn cutting time, with long evenings, with football season and the tumbling exuberance of half-grown boys. But we shall not starve without meats for a while, for our land is good. Along Honey Creek there are shoats growing for pork, calves fast becoming beeves, and a good share of milk and honey. And the United States is full of Honey Creeks.

As Others See It

Criticism Helps.

Wage Stabilization Program Losing Support of Labor, Industry

MEMBERS OF BOARD READY TO WITHDRAW

Management Representatives Likely to Submit Their Resignations Soon.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Labor's demand for abandonment of government wage controls was followed today by a report that industry members of the national wage stabilization board have decided to resign.

Such action, if carried out, would collapse the present tripartite—government, labor, industry—machinery for administration of wage controls and force an immediate decision by the government as to the future course of stabilization.

The industry members—Earl N. Cannon and A. Colman Barrett—submitted resignations to the White House last July 18, but later cancelled the effective date at the request of President Truman.

At the time, the industry representatives expressed the opinion that "the continuance of the so-called tri-partite arrangement of this and similar boards is inadvisable."

The president agreed to the possibility "that modifications in present controls will be necessary," but requested the two men to remain on the NWSB "in the midst of this immediate, and perhaps transitional period."

Now the industry representatives are reported ready to resubmit a date for their resignations.

Since July, several major developments have occurred in the stabilization picture.

They were:

1. The NWSB suffered a serious blow to its prestige in denying AFL maritime wage demands only to have Reconversion Director John R. Steelman amend stabilization rules to permit the increases.

2. AFL President William Green, United Mine Workers chief John L. Lewis and other labor leaders launched a vigorous campaign for removal of wage controls.

3. President Truman asked the reconversion advisory board—composed of industry, labor, agriculture and government members—to devise a new stabilization policy, but the board reported back in disagreement.

THE WORLD has long heard of the Kremlin, fabulous city within a city from which a handful of men rule the vast Union of Socialistic Soviet Republics; but few persons know what it actually looks like. Here is a comprehensive picture of the Kremlin, located in the heart of Moscow. Two towers in foreground are a pair of the 19 watch towers which puncture the length of the wall that surrounds the Kremlin for a mile and a quarter. St. Andrew's palace, between these towers, houses government offices. Large building in center is the Kremlin palace, built by Czar Nicholas in 1838-49 and used by the supreme Soviet and government agencies. Multi-towered building at right is the former supreme church of Russia. The Moskva river runs along length of wall in right foreground.

Fire Prevention Called Individual Responsibility

A challenge to the individual citizen to assume responsibility for fire prevention and protection was issued before the Mansfield Rotary club at its noonday luncheon yesterday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel by Harry K. Rogers.

"If the law of averages holds good," Rogers exclaimed, "at this time tomorrow 40 people will have suffered a horrible death from fire." "Burning to death is a most terrible way to die," Rogers continued, as he pointed to about 15,000 lives, 17,000 to 20,000 casualties, and a billion dollars in damage as representing an average annual fire toll in America.

Rogers' related personal experiences with families and relatives of children who had been burned to death and compared them with the experience of a child who had learned fire prevention and had saved his own life as a result.

"It is ridiculous that fire tolls threaten to be the highest in American history," Rogers concluded. "The answer to the whole problem is individual responsibility If you don't have any fires and I don't have any, the matter will take care of itself."

John Routzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, acted as program chairman, introducing Bill Schultz, chairman of the chamber's fire prevention committee who in turn introduced the speaker.

Two visitors from England, J. A. Fraser and L. Brown, were among the guests introduced.

Flowers on Sea To Honor Navy

Thousands of flowers will be cast upon the waters of the world on Navy day, Sunday, Oct. 27, given by relatives and friends of those who gave their lives at sea in defense of this country in World War II.

The solemn flower memorial services will again be conducted by the Navy League as sponsor of Navy day. Last year, Navy planes and ships scattered the flowers to express the sentiments of the nation.

Individuals who wish to take part in the services are asked to contribute only one flower, blossom or bud, preferably wild or home grown. If flowers are purchased, the price paid should be modest. Organizations may give a small wreath.

All flowers received before midnight, Saturday, Oct. 26, will be placed aboard naval vessels or planes, which will proceed to a point out of sight of land where all-faith services will be held. Flowers will not be delivered to points overseas.

Flowers should be addressed to the Senior Naval Chaplain at Navy Recruiting station, 321 Plymouth Court, Chicago 4, Ill.

FAMILY MESSAGE NO. 8

Who should manage the family money?

What family hasn't debated this old, old question? The answers below will interest you. They are given by PROFESSOR DORA S. LEWIS, Chairman of the Department of Home Economics of Hunter College.

Get together and talk it over

"Bickering over money matters causes a great many family misunderstandings," says Mrs. Lewis. "Too many wives complain that the family income is not fairly divided. Too many husbands dole out the household money as if it were a gift.

"If husbands and wives would always consider family money as 'our money,' not 'your money' and 'my money' —and plan its use together—it would be a different story.

"The children, too, should have some part in the planning. This is the best of ways to learn the value of money and get to understand why it is possible to buy some things and not others."

What part of the money should the wife get?

"Surveys show that up to 85 per cent of all family purchases are made by women. So it would be natural for wives to be in charge of most of the household money.

"Every wife should be an expert at buying food, clothing, and all the other things that keep the home running smoothly. If she is not a good buyer, she would do well to study how to manage family money better.

"And if the husband, too, knew more about household expenses, he'd be less critical of what he calls extravagance."

What bills should the husband pay?

"Because men are often better at managing the things which protect the family's future," says Mrs. Lewis, "they usually take care of the long-range items such as taxes, life insurance, savings, etc.

"Sometimes husbands are irritated by paying bills. If this is the case, and the wife has a good 'money-sense,' she should help out.

"Who handles the purse strings is not so important as agreeing on what the family wants most out of life . . . and planning the use of family money that will secure as many of those satisfactions as possible."

"FAMILY HAPPINESS HAS TO BE PLANNED"

Regardless of the size of income, any family can have more happiness and fewer family worries by carefully planning the use of the family money.

First: provide in advance for payments coming due, such as rent, taxes, mortgage charges, life insurance and other insurance. The easiest way is to bank the small amounts each payday that will add up to the larger amounts when due.

Second: deposit something extra in the savings account until you have built up a fund for emergencies.

Then you know just what you have to spend on the everyday family needs such as food and clothing, and for recreation—and what you can afford to set aside for such family plans as a new home, education, travel . . .

Because the life insurance companies and their agents have long helped people to plan for family security and happiness, they are conducting this program of information as a public service to the 71,000,000 owners of life insurance and to every American family.

On Giving Reception For Son

By EMILY POST

The mother of a bridegroom-to-be writes me: "We are not going to be able to go to our son's wedding as it will be in South America, where he is establishing himself. Also, none of our relatives nor his boyhood friends will see him for some time after he leaves home. Under the circumstances, I would like to give a reception or some kind of a party for him. There will be many people to ask but I want to keep everything as informal as I can. Will you suggest an invitation and the type of party you think nicest?"

It is very unusual that a reception, or anything approaching it, be given for a man. But under the unusual circumstances which you describe, a party for your son certainly would be understandable. Invitations might be written by hand on note paper: "Good-bye party for John (who is about to leave for South America) Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock." Or, else write across your Mr. and Mrs. visiting card: "Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, at 9 o'clock—Farewell party for John."

I think the nicest type of party, if you could give it, would be a buffet supper. Make it a simple one. On the other hand, if you are having too many people for this, then just let them come for an evening of conversation and serve light refreshments at about 10 o'clock.

Dorothy Kilgallen—

Life In a Columnist's Letter Box.

Hollywood, California.

Dear Miss Kilgallen:

This is Harry. I have just learned a recent review of "The Jolson Story" by you with the heading "I Wonder What Became of Harry" made its appearance about two weeks ago.

Thanks for remembering an old-timer and the cans of corks I sweat for over 30 years in the large and small burlesque and vaudeville theaters of our U. S. A. and Europe.

Thanks, too, for remembering the early struggles of my brother and me—and even though I am the forgotten man in "The Jolson Story," it's still a great picture!

To answer your query—I'm living in my lovely home on a Hollywood hilltop (fortunately some of the shekels earned the hard way in those vaudeville years stuck), and I've had the same wife for almost 38 years.

Though the world has not made a beaten path to my door as it has to my famous brother, I have much to be grateful for.

Sincerely,
Harry Jolson.

(You're right, Harry. Names in lights look very pretty, but happiness is a nice thing to have around the house, too. And don't worry about being left out of the pictures; that happens all the time in Hollywood biographies Hollywood writers hate relatives, unless they're relatives of the producer. George Gershwin had a brother Arthur and a sister Frances, but you didn't see them in the Warner Brothers picture, did you? And the same outfit allowed George M. Cohan only one wife instead of two in "Yankee Doodle Dandy." Maybe some day Columbia will make the "Life of Harry Jolson" and leave out Al.)

Brooklyn, New York.

Dear Miss Kilgallen:

Some time ago I read a piece in your column where you compared the appearance of Olivia DeHavilland in "To Each His Own" to that of Claudette Colbert in "Tomorrow Is Forever." I agree with you that Claudette looked younger than Olivia in the World War II scenes—but there are good reasons for this. Here are some instances:

1. Although both Claudette and Olivia lost their man in World War I and both were going to have a baby, Claudette was married to her man, while Olivia was not.

2. Claudette had the love of her baby; Olivia did not.

3. Claudette had consolation and comfort by marrying again, Olivia did not marry anyone.

4. Later Claudette had other children to add to her now happy life; Olivia didn't even have her father after he died.

5. Claudette had a beautiful home she shared with her husband and children; Olivia had a lonely apartment and a maid.

I'm sure you can see now why Olivia looked older than Claudette. After all, Claudette made herself a rich, full life against Olivia's sad, lonely life.

Dorothy, please answer me as I am interested in what you have to say on the matter now.

Your avid reader,
Helen Rivell.

(Well, Helen, I think you have several good points there, but I still believe much of the disparity was due to the makeup men, or Miss Colbert's vanity or Miss DeHavilland's lack of it, and not the strict adherence to the probabilities of real life. Certainly the rich full life is not to be knocked, and is preferable to frustration—but remember Olivia's was a pretty luxurious kind of frustration and it skirted the factors that usually make women hags, as, for instance, excessive manual labor and the accompanying acute fatigue. It has been my regretful observation that between a divinely happy housewife with three children to care for and a frustrated millionairess with no brood, the one most likely to keep her figure shapely and her face unlined is the one with the most time for sleep and Elizabeth Arden.)

Makers of a new elastic shoe claim it is scuffless and will remain shiny after washing with soap and water.

Barclay on Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

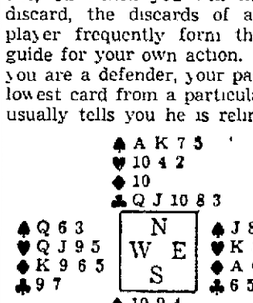
REGARDLESS of whether you are the declarer or a defender, an important phase of good card playing consists of watching all discards and making the logical inferences from them At either a suit or No Trump contract, if a long suit is being run by someone, on which you will have to discard, the discards of another player frequently form the sole guide for your own action. When you are a defender, your partner's lowest card from a particular suit usually tells you he is relinquishing protection there and wants you to retain yours, as he is guarding against some other suit or suits.

Odd bidding, with north starting it. Most players would open South's hand, with either 1-Diamond or a short club bid, preferably the former. But the natural contract resulted anyway.

West led his heart Q, South ducking. The 5 to the K won the second trick and South then was in with his A He saw the danger of getting set two or more if he ducked a spade trick or tried to set up the suit in the first three rounds, as either of those plans might cause the loss of four tricks in diamonds. So, playing safely for one down and hardly thinking of game any more, except through some defense mistake, he ran his five club tricks.

On the third club West tossed his spade 3, in order to keep his four diamonds and heart J, but East wasn't looking. So on the fourth club East tossed the spade 2 Hoping that indicated the very kind of carelessness it did, South took his two top spades and was overjoyed to see both defenders follow. Two more spades then gave him contract plus an extra trick."

If East had noted that West's spade 3 was his lowest possible, East should have held his spades and tossed diamonds on the last two clubs. That would have made it impossible for South to take more than eight tricks.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, Oct. 10.

AN orderly, systematic, basic and diligent plan of action, brought to bear upon the prevailing conditions and prospects of this day, may be responsible for diverting menacing situations or involvements into channels of real worth and far-reaching safety and security. An undertone of duplicity, craft, intrigue, even sinister import, should be carefully analyzed and appraised, if any productive and enduring benefits are desired

Shun wrangling and tangling in favor of calm and cold calculation.

Those whose birthday it is may reap a year of definite and lasting benefits, rewards or emoluments by a calm, sound and well-ordered plan of action, with a wise and shrewd manipulation of sinister, subtle or treacherous circumstances that are likely to arise for their forthright action This duplicity might arise from enmity or jealousy in high places, or others with whom it might be wise to sidestep all manner of wrangling and vicious tangling, where schemers have sordid intent.

A child born on this day will have sound purpose, with diligent and dependable endeavors or promising objective, but it may run counter to those in high places or be the easy dupe of tricksters. It should be given early direction as to this.

Blaze Mars Fire Prevention Week

ASHLAND — Fire Prevention week was marred in Ashland county Sunday when a blaze in a barn at the J. V. Heffelfinger farm, Polk, R. D. 1, threatened to destroy the structure before Polk and West Salem firemen could get it under control.

Firemen succeeded in quelling the blaze after six hogs and a corncrib were destroyed. Neighbors assisted firemen in hauling water from a nearby creek.

SEWAGE WORK BIDS RECEIVED BY CRESTLINE

Detroit Firm Asks $140,383.60 For All Work on Treatment Plant.

CRESTLINE — Two bids for completion of the city's sewage disposal plant were received by council at its Monday night meeting. The first, from the Dill Construction company of Shaker Heights, was for section one, for sewers, lift station and water mains, and was for $62,735.50.

The second bid on section one was $42,416, from Miller Thompson Mancini, of Detroit, Mich. Their bid on section two, which is for the treatment plant complete was $140,383.60.

Engineer Floyd Brown, of Marion, in charge of the project was asked by council to check the bids. Since the city solons have 30 days to accept or reject the bids, Brown will meet with council at a special meeting to reach a decision.

In other matters on the calendar, council granted Street Commissioner Erwin Eckert permission to purchase 400 feet of six-inch tile.

Mayor A. P. Sonner appointed Edward D. Blocker, of East Main street, to serve as councilman in the unexpired term of Oscar Tracht, recently resigned.

Mayor Sonner reported $142.10 received in fines.

Showy Krupp Villa Stands Unhurt Amidst Ruins of War

ESSEN, Germany — (AP) — The showplace home of the Krupp family stands undamaged only a few miles from the bomb-blasted Krupp munitions works and the shattered homes of the steel workers and coal miners.

A four-story, gray stone building surrounded by green acres—like a city hall in the middle of Central park—it is known simply as Villa Huegel, the "house on the hill."

Once occupied by nine Krupps, mother, father and seven children, the vast domicile serves now as an office for almost 500 workers of the British-operated north German coal control, in charge of Ruhr coal production.

The Krupps have left, but there are many traces of the majestic scale on which the family lived.

60-Foot Dining Room.

Their dining room table measures 60 feet from end to end, and they had single piece tablecloths long enough to cover it.

Now, with the number of overlapping cloths to cover the table, 120 British military government officers eat there with members of a French coal commission.

The table by no means occupies all the space in the room and has been moved a bit to one side to permit the addition of eight or ten smaller tables for four.

To the rear of the dining room, and overlooking a grotto or walled garden with fountains, is a library with 27,000 volumes. Written in a number of languages, they mostly concern art and politics. Members of the staff are welcome to borrow the books. The Krupp librarian still puts in an appearance every day to keep the catalogues in order.

A tub in the "master bathroom" is a triumph of ingenuity. Instead of having only hot and cold faucets like ordinary tubs, this has a bout a dozen extra. Each provides its own brand of invigorating tonic water.

Alfred Krupp, the man who brought world-wide fame to the family name, began construction of the house in 1870. He intended it to be fit for visits by kings and emperors but declined to describe the place as a castle. He gave it the name Villa Huegel.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

GETS $24,571

County Receives Allocation of State Funds.

An allocation of $24,571 from the auditor of state's office had been received today, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe reported.

Of the total, $10,000 is from the gasoline excise tax fund and represents the state's sixth distribution of the year for county road purposes, $1,283 is the monthly reimbursement for poor relief, and $13,288 is the October advance local government money. The latter will probably be distributed to the villages, municipalities and townships within a week, Wolfe said.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

There's probably not a word of truth in this story, but it concerns a time when George, later George V, was a little boy at school. Temporarily out of funds, he wrote a heartbreaking letter to his august grandmother, the good Queen Victoria, begging pecuniary assistance.

The good queen didn't fall for it. Instead, she wrote him a sharp note telling what happened to little boys who exceeded their allowances. Back came a letter which read, "My dear Grandmamma: I am sure you will be glad to know that I need trouble you no longer for money. I sold your last letter to one of the tutors for three pounds."

* * *

Huey Long, smartest and most dangerous of American demagogues, kept a continuous finger on the public pulse. A henchman reported one day, "A lot of your constituents don't see eye to eye with you on the traction bill, Boss." "Stay right on the ball, Jim," advised Long. "If ever enough of them oppose it to become a majority, I'll come out against it myself."

Somebody once asked Long, "Do you think we'll ever have fascism in America, Huey?" "Sure," said the wily Long. "Only here we'll call it anti-fascism."
